Clifford Convinced War Was Hopeless

WASHINGTON (AP) — Clark M. Clifford, a strong supporter of U.S. Vietnam policy when he became the Johnson administration's defense chief in 1968, has said he left office convinced the nation's military effort in the war was hopeless, sources say.

Clifford, secretary of Defense from Jan. 30, 1968 until President Johnson left office earlier this year, declared his disillusionment to some Senate Foreign Relations Committee members called together by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, sources said.

Close To LBJ

Fulbright, one of the strongest critics of the nation's Vietnam involvement, called the meeting April 22, the sources said, after learning of Clifford's change of heart.

Clifford, one of President

Johnson's closest associates, entered the Defense Department publicly committed to the idea that the American intervention was necessary, not only to save South Vietnam, but to prevent the takeover of other non-Communist nations in Southeast Asia.

Clifford made his views clear when he told a Senate committee considering his appointment Jan. 25, 1968:

Disagreed

"To me it is not a question of years, it is a question of weeks and months, if we weren't there, until Southeast Asia, nation by nation, succumbed and that is not happening now, in my opinion, because we are there and because we have extended this shield and I believe we must continue to do it."

But at the meeting last month, the sources said, he told the senators he left office in disagreement with many of former President Johnson's Vietnam policies and convinced the Domino Theory that the fall of Vietnam would lead to the takeover of other nations was fallacious.

In addition, Clifford told the senators he didn't feel President Nixon had tried hard enough to extricate the United States from Vietnam.

The sources also said Clifford's statements were one of the reasons behind a call Thursday by Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., for the United States to start an immediate withdrawal of troops from the war zone.

Mitchell Demands Arrests To Halt College Militants

U.S. Loses 25 Copters Last Week

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today that 23 helicopters and 10 fixed-wing planes were lost in the Vietnam war during the past week. It was one of the more expensive weeks for America's aerial forces.

Most of the helicopters were shot down, and the others were lost in collisions or enemy attacks on U.S. bases, headquarters said.

At least two of the planes were fighter-bombers reported shot down earlier. The command gave no details about the other losses.

The report said a total of 2,585 U.S. helicopters and 2,681 planes now have been lost in the war.

Captured

A U.S. spokesman also announced that 38,000 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed since the Viet Cong spring offensive started Feb. 23, and American and South Vietnamese forces since the first of the year have captured:

—2,500 rockets and 110,000 mortar rounds, "more than the enemy has fired countrywide in the same period."

—2,500 tons of rice, enough to feed 50 battalions of 500 men each for four months.

—20,000 individual weapons and 3,000 crew-served weapons.

Activities Low

Although the U.S. Command did not say the enemy offensive was over, the spokesman said the heavy losses had forced the enemy to reduce his offensive operations.

"We estimate that the enemy's activities have decreased because he did not have any other choice," the spokesman said. "The primary reason for this, as you may have noted in the weekly statistical summaries, is that the enemy has suffered about 38,000 killed since Feb. 23."

"These are serious losses which exceed his losses during the same time frame following initiation of his offensives in both May and August of 1968."

Roughly one-third of the total American and enemy casualties in eight years and four months of fighting in Vietnam have occurred in the year since the United States and North Vietnam agreed to talk peace.

Saturday is the first anniversary of President Lyndon B. Johnson's announcement that Washington and Hanoi had agreed to send negotiators to Paris. Ten days later, on May 13, 1968, preliminary peace talks opened.

In the 52 weeks of fighting from April 27, 1968 through last Saturday, April 26, a total of 12,440 Americans and 153,779 of the enemy were killed in action and 79,793 U.S. troops were wounded, according to U.S. Command figures. South Vietnamese headquarters reports 14,367 of its troops killed and 52,526 wounded in that year.

The U.S. Command says that since the United States entered the war in force on Jan. 1, 1961, a total of 34,446 Americans and 488,231 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong have died in battle and another 221,012 Americans have been wounded.

U.S. military sources say the sharp reduction in American combat dead last week—to 163, the lowest total since Jan. 11—indicates the Viet Cong's spring offensive has fizzled out.

TV Doesn't Act On Cigarette Ads

WASHINGTON (AP) — The television industry, acting as a congressional hearing into the smoking and health controversy drew to a close, says tighter voluntary controls on cigarette advertising are not necessary for the time being.

The Television Review Board of the National Association of Broadcasters said Thursday it had "decided to keep the matter of cigarette advertising under continuing review and that no further actions are necessary at this time." The Board action was taken Wednesday, a NAB official said.

Current voluntary NAB controls ban smoking commercials aimed at the young, endorsements by athletes and the making of medical claims.

The NAB also said it feared that "action at this time might appear to some to be merely a strategic maneuver designed to influence congressional action," referring to the House Commerce Committee's just concluded inquiry into the cigarette labeling act.

The last witness Thursday was Robert B. Meyner, director of the cigarette industry's advertising code, who said past performances by the Federal Trade Commission raise questions about letting it have broader authority in the field.

The FTC has served notice it wants to toughen warnings on cigarette packages and extend it to advertising.

The Federal Communications Commission also has suggested a ban on radio and television advertising of cigarettes.

Both are contingent, however, on Congress turning loose this authority. The agencies, and states as well, are pre-empted by present law from making any changes in cigarette advertising. This section, however, expires on June 30.

The tobacco industry wants to extend the pre-emption on an indefinite basis, thus thwarting the agency proposals, and also wants to keep the present warning that smoking may be a health hazard on the pack unchanged.

Atty. Gen. Says Time Has Come To End Patience

SOUTHFIELD (AP) — Calling for "an end to minority tyranny on the nation's campuses," Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell has demanded a crackdown on student militants by college officials, law enforcement agencies and the courts.

"If arrests must be made, then arrests there should be," said Mitchell in a speech Thursday night before the annual Law Day dinner of the Detroit Bar Association.

"If violators must be prosecuted, then prosecutions there should be," Mitchell added.

The attorney general said he spoke in the role of the nation's senior law enforcement officer in demanding a halt to campus turmoil. His speech was drafted

French Cabinet Votes June 1 On President

PARIS (AP) — The French Cabinet today set June 1 as the date for the first round of voting in the election to name President Charles de Gaulle's successor.

If no candidate gets a majority on the first round, the two top men will compete in a runoff election June 15.

Georges Pompidou of the Gaullists is the only announced candidate so far and the favorite to replace the general he served for six years as premier. At least three men are competing for the Socialist nomination, a Communist candidate is likely, and there probably will be other entries also.

All candidates must submit their petitions by midnight May 13. The campaign officially opens May 17.

John N. Mitchell

during policy consultations with President Nixon and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

"This administration has tried to be patient," Mitchell said, "in the hope that students, faculty and local officials, working together, would put an end to this chaos."

Apply Law

But the time has come for an end to patience.

"The time has come for us to demand, in the strongest possible terms, that university officials, local law enforcement agencies and local courts apply the law."

Mitchell conceded that the only federal jurisdiction in student uprisings is against traveling militants who cross state lines "with intent to incite riots"—an authority conferred under the 1968 Civil Rights Act.

He left unanswered whether the administration will seek new laws aimed specifically at students if college officials and local police do not bring an end to disturbances.

Rejecting faculty-student negotiations, he contended "It is no admission of defeat... to use reasonable physical force to eliminate physical force."

Tyrants

Mitchell referred to militants as "nothing but tyrants." He said "There are others who share the blame by failing to act—university administrators must take firm and immediate action to protect the rights of faculty members to teach and of other students to learn."

He said faculty members "should stop negotiating under the blackmail threat of violence," and, "Apathetic students should stand up for the rights of those who wish to pursue civility and scholarship in the academic community."

Recting figures on campus revolts during the current academic year, Mitchell said disturbances have struck more than 200 colleges, resulting in more than 2,300 arrests and property damage in excess of $2.2 million.

Escalation

And since Jan. 1, he said, the "protest movement has escalated its tactics" in the form of more bombings, more injuries, more fires and property damage.

Outlining the federal role, Mitchell said Justice Department investigators have gathered substantial information on "a small core of professional militants who make it their tragic occupation to convert peaceable student dissatisfaction into violence and confrontation."

Hickel Retains Lobbyist, Watt

WASHINGTON (AP) — A former lobbyist who opposed two conservation measures and later was hired by the Interior Department for two months as a high-level consultant has now been retained by Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel for "an indefinite period."

The Associated Press revealed last February that Hickel had retained the former lobbyist for the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, James G. Watt, after Watt testified against measures dealing with industrial water pollution and reclamation of strip-mined lands.

At that time, the Interior Department said Watt had been hired for two months as a $98-a-day consultant in organizing the department under the new administration.

Watt's two-month term ended March 26. Today he is still at the department and holds the title of special consultant to the secretary.

A spokesman said Watt is not in a policy-making position and his job continues to be one of advising on departmental organization.

"His initial two-month contract expired some time ago," a spokesman said Thursday. "He is now working on a day-to-day basis for an indefinite period."

Report Plot To Oust Prime Minister Wilson

LONDON (AP) — Political sources say an attempt from within his own Labor party to replace Prime Minister Harold Wilson may be imminent.

Reports of a plot against Wilson by some of his former Cabinet ministers and other backbench MPs are circulating in the lobbies of the House of Commons and appeared today on front pages of most major newspapers.

One report said the rebels were discussing whether to bring a vote of no confidence against the prime minister at an early meeting of the Labor party members in Commons.

The immediate sore point is Wilson's insistence on pushing through Parliament this summer laws to curb the wildcat strikes crippling British exports. The party's traditional cornerstone of political support, the trade union movement, is fighting the legislation tooth and nail.

In Wilson's nearly five years in office plots to replace him have often been reported but never have developed into a real threat. Political informants said the situation appeared different this time on at least three counts:

1. Criticism of Wilson and his antistrike bills is more open in Parliamentary lobbies than on earlier occasions and no longer emanates mainly from factions backing a potential rival.

2. The criticism is more widespread than before. It is said to include not only the party's disident left wing, long a nuisance to Wilson, but also some of the center. Varying accounts put Wilson's critics at between 30 and 100 members.

3. For the first time, supporters of various potential successors to Wilson are now prepared to unite behind any one man who appears to have the best chance. Those most prominently mentioned are Home Secretary James Callaghan, a past opponent of the strike control proposals; Defense Secretary Denis Healey and Chancellor of the Exchequer Roy Jenkins.

The strategy of the dissidents is to force a change in the party leadership from within rather than to defeat the government in Commons and force a general election. It is generally acknowledged that in an election now, Labor would lose badly and many of the dissident MPs would lose their seats in Commons.

Wilson has been gambling all along that his unpopular austerity measures will right the economy before April 1971, when he has to call an election. His opponents believe Labor must turn to a new man who can unite the party and the unions.

Car Production Dips Sharply

DETROIT (AP) — Auto production dipped sharply this week as a result of strikes and subsequent layoffs affecting a number of General Motors plants.

The trade publication Automotive News estimated auto production for the week at 161,545 cars, well below the 180,150 built last week in the early days of the GM strike. In the corresponding week a year ago, 211,670 were assembled.

Chevrolet bore the brunt of the production dip as it turned out only 25,810 cars this week compared to the 44,066 it built last week. GM plants and Fisher Body units were involved in the GM labor disputes. In all, seven of GM's 23 assembly plants were down as of Thursday morning.

Industry output for the calendar year rose to 3,095,035 cars compared with 3,246,268 at this point a year ago.

Truck production also dipped because of the strike with 34,329 units built this week compared with the 39,498 assembled last week. Five GM truck supply units were closed because of labor problems.

In Canada, auto output this week was pegged at 22,167 units compared to the 22,543 built last week and 24,182 in the corresponding week a year ago. For the year to date output was estimated at 350,695 compared with 271,684 at this point a year ago.

Canadian truck makers built 7,136 units this week, ahead of the 6,916 built last week but behind the 7,401 built in the corresponding week a year ago.

Pope Ending Mass Changes

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI ordered an end today to further experimentation with the Roman Catholic Mass. But he left priests a wide choice of Masses to celebrate and ended the 1,900-year-old rule that required women to cover their heads in church.

The orders came in the form of a decree titled "Missale Romanum" (Roman Missal) which brings together in the form of a comprehensive altar book all the many changes in the Mass instituted since the Vatican Ecumenical Council.

The compilation represents a thorough revision of the prayers and rites of the Mass. It also means that no more major changes or experiments beyond those contained in the new missal are permitted.

Milliken Spurns Mule Statement

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Michigan Gov. William G. Milliken disavowed sympathy with remarks made by Gov. Louie Nunn Thursday when the Kentucky chief executive spurned an offer of a mule by a contingent of Blue Grass State poor people.

The poor people's representative, Mrs. Wanita Bain, offered the $70 mule, named Hope, to the Republican Governors Conference after the conference had accepted a $70,000 race horse.

Hope was described as having been "sired by Poor out of Desperation."

"As I look into the face of this mule, this sad forlorn animal," Nunn said, gesturing toward the matted farm animal, "I dwell upon the sadness of the faces and in the hearts of the poor."

Then, Nunn added:

"When I look at his back I am reminded of the burden of responsibility that is on us elected officials and the taxpayers... And as I look at the rear quarters of this mule I shall be ever mindful of the conduct and behavior of some of those who have made this presentation."

Milliken later dissociated himself from Nunn's remarks and wired his thanks to the poor people's coalition for having presented the animal.

"It's burden is the burden of us all," the Michigan governor said.

After Nunn disappeared into the hotel where the governors are meeting, the poor people led the mule away, saying she would be returned to her task turning a grindstone in a sorghum mill.

The profits of her labor, the representatives said, would be used to help fight poverty.

Nazi, Von Papen, Dies

OBERSASBACH, Germany (AP) — Former Chancellor Franz von Papen, who helped pave Hitler's way to power and later won acquittal at the Nuremberg war crimes trials, died today, his son reported. He was 89 years old.

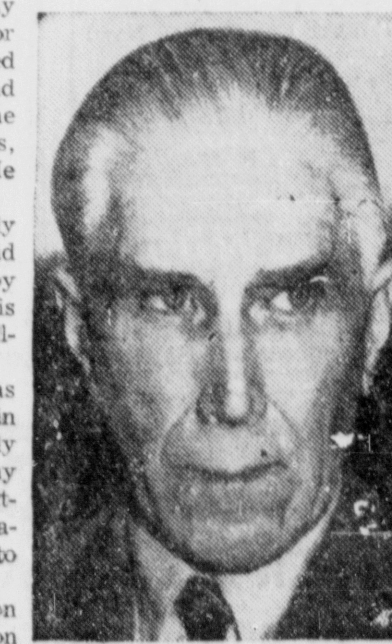

Von Papen became seriously ill early in April. His son said the illness was aggravated by his advanced age. He died at his secluded home in this Baden village.

Von Papen, regarded as something of a lightweight in the German politics of the early 1930s, was as responsible as any one man for bringing Adolf Hitler to power, though that probably was not what he meant to do.

In a chaotic political situation in June 1932, President Paul von Hindenburg appointed Von Papen chancellor. But he resigned that fall after elections showed Hitler's Nazi had made great gains, though still not enough for a Reichstag majority.

Becomes Deputy

The Nazis were nearly bankrupt then, and Von Papen arranged a meeting of Hitler and Baron Kurt von Schroeder, a raised for Hitler's party.

Von Papen then went to his old friend, President Hindenburg and convinced him that he should summon Hitler to be chancellor and make Von Papen his deputy. Hitler and two others were the only Nazis in the government formed Jan. 30, 1933, and Von Papen said it was deliberately fashioned that way to keep Hitler in check.

But Von Papen, the record shows, sat in Cabinet meetings at which the Nazis gradually substituted the concentration camp for the rule of law.

Imprisoned

In April 1945, with Germany going down, he placed himself in the path of American troops to be captured, hoping to head a government for peace negotiations. Instead, he was imprisoned and brought to trial on war crimes charges before the International Military Tribunal in 1946.

The court acquitted him of plotting war, said he was guilty of grave "offenses against political morality" but added that under its charter it was unable to punish him.

Arab Saboteurs Attack Israelis

By The Associated Press
A squad of Arab saboteurs from Jordan attacked an Israeli army emplacement today, there were skirmishes on the border of Lebanon and Cairo reported cannonading along the Suez Canal.

A military spokesman in Tel Aviv said two soldiers were killed and three were wounded in the saboteur attack near El Hama on the Yarmouk River, a tributary of the Jordan south-east of the Sea of Galilee. Two saboteurs also were reported killed.

The spokesman said the Arabs struck with grenades and light arms.

At about the same time, a bomb went off in El Hama causing serious damage to a building the spokesman reported.

Farther north, the army announced two Arab saboteurs were killed and an Israeli soldier was wounded in clashes on the Lebanese border.

An army spokesman said in Cairo Israeli forces opened fire on Egyptian positions at El Tina north of El Qantara on the northern reaches of the Suez Canal cease-fire line. Egyptian forces returned the fire and the exchange continued sporadically for 3½ hours, the spokesman added.

Egypt and Israel have swapped new claims and denials but have told Secretary-General U Thant they are trying to limit danger to U.N. observers along the canal. He had protested the exchange of fire across the canal endangered his observers.

Council Raises Tax Rate By 2 Mills To Meet Record Budget

By CLINT DUNATHAN

To balance a preliminary budget that reaches all-time record proportions, the Escanaba City Council has approved a city millage increase of $2 per $1,000 assessed valuation to take effect this year.

The tax rate boost will appear on the bills received by city taxpayers in July. The increase is from $14.50 to $16.50 per $1,000 assessed valuation and is the first in five years.

Escanaba is fortunate, however, in having revenues from its municipal electric generating and distribution system — the "golden goose" — or the city tax rate would be about 10 mills higher, City Manager George Harvey pointed out.

The electrical utility will pay into the general operating fund of the city about $450,000 in the fiscal year ahead. That represents about 10 mills in tax revenue.

Escanaba's current fiscal year ends June 30. The general fund budget for the current year is $1,827,000 and it will be upped to $2,117,000 in the coming year — an increase in general operating costs of $290,000.

More Tax Base

"Everything costs more," said the city manager. "Materials, labor—I hate to blame inflation but that's a major factor." The city's state equalized valuation for tax assessment purposes has skyrocketed in the past year because of new construction — largely industrial and commercial.

This tax base or foundation increased from $36,800,000 to $38,900,000.

"But whenever you have growth you also have additional expenses on the municipality to serve new growth areas with streets, sewers, water and other services," the city manager noted.

To meet the record city budget and provide the services expected of it, Escanaba is anticipating major revenues from these sources: From city taxes $650,000 (up from $540,000 last year); from state sources $450,000; and from the municipal electric utility $450,000.

Three Utilities

Those are the primary sources of revenue. Some of the minor sources include about $20,000 from the city parking meter

Public Hearing

Public hearing and adoption of the budget is scheduled by the City Council at 8 p.m. May 15. Utility rate ordinances are to be adopted June 2. The appropriation and tax levy ordinances are to be adopted no later than May 29.

fund and $15,000 (it was $10,000 last year) from the County Board of Supervisors to assist in financing the airport.

Another source of revenue will be $11,000 collection fee charged by the city for the collection of school and county taxes in Escanaba. This is provided for by state statute but the city has never before charged for its billing and mailing services.

Besides its general fund budget the city has three utilities to operate—electric, water, and wastewater or sewerage. The combined utilities and general fund budget for Escanaba will increase by $445,300, up to a record $3,979,000.

The electric utility not only pays its own way but makes the equivalent for the city of 10 mills in property taxes. The electric rates in Escanaba will be unchanged in the coming fiscal year.

Boost Water Rate

But the water utility is not carrying its share of the freight and the city manager is recommending rate increases to bring the necessary $26,000 to balance the utility budget of $271,000 in the coming year. The utility has been "subsidized" by the general fund in the past.

For the average residential water consumer the rate will go up 2 cents per 1,000 gallons; for large consumers it will be more; and for schools, churches, cemeteries and the city itself the rate will be boosted from 11 to 17 cents per 1,000 gallons. The latter increase is to place the rate at the cost basis.

The boost in water rates will automatically be reflected in higher revenues for the wastewater or sewerage system, since the rate there is 50 percent of the water bill. But the increase will still be far short of meeting the wastewater utility costs. Last year $140,000 was transferred to that utility from the general fund to meet its costs.

Paving In Budget

Harvey said that the balancing of the budget required project cutbacks that he and the Council regretted, but that essential services and the improvement and maintenance of streets and alleys will be continued.

Knocked out of the budget consideration were a public safety building, a new fire truck and revision of the fire alarm system, airport fire fighting equipment, new boiler at the library.

The recreation department budget was held to an increase of $20,000—from $70,000 to $90,000—with the additional cost represented by the new civic center operation.

Retained in capital outlay, however, are 22 blocks of alley paving, 15 street paving projects, six sanitary sewer and four water mains.

THE NEEDS OF deaf and hard of hearing children can be met more fully with help of the informed mother, says Dr. Mary Blair, consultant for Special Education for the State Department of Education. Guide Mother To Help Deaf Child, Says Dr. Blair

Dr. Mary Blair, consultant for Special Education for the State Department of Education, spoke to the Better Hearing and Speech Society Wednesday night at the Chamber of Commerce Building.

Dr. Blair began serving handicapped children in Michigan at age 17 as an instructor at the School for the Deaf at Flint, then as a director of special education, and for many years as consultant.

Dr. Blair gave particular attention to the needs of deaf and hard of hearing children, emphasizing the needs of the pre-school children, elementary level, and the high school group. At present Escanaba serves only elementary deaf and hard of hearing children.

Pre-school children can be helped in various ways, the most important factor being the guidance given the mother, helping her to stimulate listening and language development, she said. She spoke of the need for full programs serving children of all ages, the provision of vocational rehabilitation assistance for early high school students, and adult education classes.

Children of any age can be served by state law, but the service is not mandatory. Most communities have programs for elementary students, dropping them at the sixth grade level or allowing them to sit in the classroom. Michigan has eight or 10 high school programs for deaf and hard of hearing, but ranks among the highest in public school services for handicapped children, she added.

Dr. Blair enthusiastically gave many suggestions for training teachers and various ways of fitting services to needs, but stressed early training for deaf youngsters.

Ten pre-school children with language impairment were found in the January speech-hearing clinic sponsored by the Better Hearing and Speech Society.

"Some of these have hearing problems, but all would benefit from a language development program," Dr. Blair said. The May meeting has been changed to Thursday, May 29, when Representative Charles Varnum of the 107th Legislative District will be the speaker.

Area Orchestra To Play Movement From Beethoven

The Escanaba Area High School Orchestra will feature the "1st Movement of Beethoven's Symphony No. 1" during its part of the annual Spring Concert Tuesday.

The 65-member orchestra, directed by Robert Chase, will be joined by the 100-member high school Concert Band and the Varsity band under the direction of John Chown in the concert at William W. Oliver auditorium.

Program will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Besides the movement from Beethoven, the orchestra will play "A Festival Prelude" by Reed and will feature pianist William VanEffen as soloist in performing the first movement of George Gershwin's "Concerto in F".

VanEffen, a senior, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William VanEffen, 1004 S. 15th St.

Admission to the concert is free. An offering will be received to defray cost of summer music scholarships.

Hire Poor To Promote Gogebic Tourist Trade

A new innovative program aiming to use the elderly poor to improve the economy in the Upper Peninsula was announced today by Alan Beals, regional director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, Chicago. Beals said a grant of $159,713 has been awarded to the Gogebic-Ontonagon Community Action Agency in Ironwood.

Project SELLS (See and Enjoy our Land, Lakes, and Streams) will help finance rural low-income, senior citizens participation in the development of tourism by acting as tourist guides. Seventy-five men and women will be employed in the summer and 15 in the winter distributing brochures, laying sightseeing routes for tourists, accompanying vacationers when requested as group guides, and encouraging tourists to spend time in the area rather than driving through.

The Gogebic-Ontonagon area has one of the highest concentrations of elderly poor in the state. Beals noted that this project "will give meaningful employment to the senior citizens as well as contribute to the overall development of the economy through promotion of tourism." A pilot program last summer was a large success and served as a basis for this new grant.

A marketing program for wood products made by low-income people enrolled in the community school program at the Gogebic Community College will be organized. The school operates both day and evening classes in arts and crafts, looms, ceramics and wood products.

Under Project RISE six low-income aids will be placed on the staffs of the Department of Health, Employment Security Commission, and the Department of Social Services to establish contact with other low-income people in the area. Buses will be provided to bring those without transportation into the service areas of Ironwood or Ontonagon.

These visits will be confined with attendance at a live stage play, film, or concert in order to help the people overcome the reluctance to seek services available to them. Beals stated that, "Project RISE should bring about a change in the attitudes of the low-income people in order that they will become self-motivated and be able to help others help themselves."

Thomas Vizanko, Ironwood, is director of the Gogebic-Ontonagon Community Action Agency.

Mead Chief Tells Diversification Trend

Financial Management In Paper Industry Changing

NEW YORK — Basic changes in financial management are taking place in the paper industry as individual companies seek sounder growth, the president of Mead Corp. told more than 100 institutional investors at a New York seminar Wednesday.

"The diversification outside the paper industry by a number of companies is healthy," according to James W. McSwiney. "The multi-industry company has more than one choice as to where it will invest its funds. Resources can be allocated to the areas which provide the best results," he said.

This should result in better earnings for companies which have such investment options and "an easing of the cyclical supply - demand fluctuations which have been with the industry too long."

Mead, a major manufacturer of paper and paper products, has moved into such areas as educational products, photographic technology, computer systems, iron and cement asbestos pipe, castings, cement and lime products.

McSwiney said his company looks at existing businesses and at new areas with the same objective: "We are focusing our attention on areas where we can establish ourselves as leaders," he said.

In seeking an increased growth rate, McSwiney cited manpower development as a key factor in the company's long-term prospects for reaching its growth objectives.

"We are currently investing more than a million dollars in training and developing people to manage existing and new businesses in a fast-moving economy," McSwiney stated.

Mead recognizes "that to achieve an acceptable growth over a long period of time is an exacting task," he said. However, "Challenges of this magnitude really are the key for a company which hopes to attract and keep good people... and, in the end, the name of the game is people."

Institutional investors from throughout the U.S. were on hand at the Hotel Plaza in New York to hear McSwiney and top executives of Kimberly Clark, Crown Zellerbach and St. Regis Paper Co. The seminar was sponsored by Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis, New York-based stock brokers.

Lee McMillan Taken By Death

L. A. McMillan, 65, of 409 S. 23rd St. died at 12:05 p. m. Thursday at St. Francis Hospital. He was born June 28, 1903 in Rib Lake, Wis. and graduated from Rib Lake High School in 1922.

Following graduation he moved to Wells with his parents and later attended Cloverland Commercial College of Escanaba.

On May 2, 1923 he began employment with the Chicago & North Western Railway in the office of division engineers. On May 1, 1925 he was promoted to the office of superintendent and on July 28, 1926 was transferred to the ore docks. He was appointed chief clerk in 1936 and in 1946 was named dock agent, a position he held until retirement in 1968.

He was married to the former Teckla Pinoket on Sept. 24, 1947 at St. Patrick's Church in Escanaba. Mr. McMillan was a member of St. Patrick's Church, Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, Chicago & North Western Veteran's Association and the Pine Forest Club.

He is survived by his widow, and one brother, Donald McMillan of Escanaba.

Friends may call at the Boyle Funeral Home from 4 to 9:30 p. m. today and parish prayers will be recited at 8 p. m. Funeral services will be conducted at 9 a. m. Saturday at St. Patrick's Church with the Rev. Charles Carmody officiating and burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery.

Public Hearing On Bond Funds Saturday Here

Michigan's House and Senate Conservation committees will be in Escanaba on Saturday morning for a hearing in connection with public sentiment on the state's $100 million recreation bond issue.

The hearing is set for 10 a. m. Saturday at the State Office Building.

Voters of Michigan approved the bond issue on a 70-30 split — with 70 per cent for state-wide recreational facility improvements and 30 per cent to cities and towns.

Gov. William Milliken is advocating that the major portion be earmarked for the cities, with Detroit gaining the most benefit.

Mrs. Magney Taken By Death

BARK RIVER—Mrs. Alva D. Magney, 80, of Bark River, died at 3 a. m. today at Pinecrest Medicare Facility, Powers, where she had been a patient for the past year.

Mrs. Magney was born Oct. 8, 1888, in Hamburg, Miss. She resided in Mississippi and in Omaha, Neb., for a number of years and for the past 15 years had made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Carl Ahlin of Bark River.

She was a member of Christian Science church, Escanaba.

Survivors include her daughter, Mrs. Carl (Catherine) Ahlin of Bark River; two sons, Joseph Lima of Superior, Wis., and Pauli Lima of Nebraska City, Neb.; nine grandchildren and seven great grandchildren. One brother, Henry Drumgoole, and a half-brother, Gordon Bradley, both of Amarillo, Tex., also survive.

Friends may call from 6 to 9:30 p. m. Sunday at the Boyle Funeral Chapel, Bark River. Complete funeral services will be held at 11 a. m. Monday at the funeral chapel. The service will be read by Mrs. Alice Fawcett of Escanaba. Burial will be in Bark River Cemetery.

Chicago Gets New Newspaper

CHICAGO—(AP)—More than 400 civic, political and industrial leaders this week welcomed Chicago Today, a tabloid format newspaper that replaced Chicago's American.

The 160-page, first-day issue, was distributed at a breakfast after a congratulatory telephone call from President Nixon and welcoming speeches by Gov. Richard Ogilvie and Mayor Richard J. Daley.

Lloyd Wendt, president of Chicago's American Publishing Co., said Chicago Today would be aimed at young, affluent families in Chicago and its suburbs.

Oliver auditorium at the junior high school Thursday during the "Spring Songfest" of the Festival of Song program. The Festival of Song program, produced by the University of Michigan broadcasting service and aired over radio station WLST into classrooms in the Escanaba area, is used as part of the elementary music education program in many area schools. The "Spring Songfest" concludes the year's program by bringing students together to sing and dance in a program based on the year's lessons. (Daily Press Photo)

Blome Named Planner Of Central U.P. Development

Chairman Myron Ross announces a second member named to the professional team of the Central Upper Peninsula Economic Development District to guide economic development in the six central counties of the U.P.

August F. Blome of Crystal Falls assumed the duties of economic planner on April 28.

Born and raised in northern Wisconsin, Blome entered the Navy after completing high school in Florence and served in the South Pacific in World War II. He was discharged in 1946 as a petty officer.

He completed requirements for his masters degree program at Michigan State University in 1963, majoring in resource development with supplemental studies in urban planning.

He received his bachelor of science degree from the University of Wisconsin in 1951, majoring in agricultural economics with specialized study in land economics and rural zoning.

For the past three years, he has been employed by Lake Superior State College as an on-the-job training coordinator.

August F. Blome

This program has trained over 500 unskilled people in the U.P.

While serving as MSU Extension agent in Iron County, Blome was county planning coordinator and acted as a liaison person between the Iron County Planning Commission and the Westside Regional Planning Commission. Acceptance of the Westside Comprehensive Plan has enabled that area to follow up with an industrial site survey and pointed the way toward consolidation of five government units which is now under consideration.

Blome guided the Iron County Planning Commission through reorganization and assisted the commission in its role as County OEDP Committee.

In other phases of community development, Blome guided the organization of the Iron County Soil Conservation District, served as county chairman of the President's 1960 Conference on Youth, coordinated the Iron County Timber Resources Survey and the County Tourist-Recreation Services Inventory. He initiated the idea of a one-day tourist hospitality workshop on a local basis and conducted the first one in Crystal Falls in 1958. The idea later became the subject of a published bulletin and has been adopted as the U.P. Pays to Know Campaign.

In 1965, Blome was one of two MSU personnel contacted to organize the six Community Action Agencies in the U.P. In four weeks, the two men, with assistance from UPCA, organized, filed for incorporation and submitted funding proposals for five of the six agencies now existing.

In his new position, Blome will be responsible for completing the Overall Economic Development Program for the central U.P. District. This will be a multi-county regional work program emphasizing the resources available for economic growth. Upon completion and acceptance of this overall program by the Economic Development Administration, the district will be designed. Blome's efforts will then be devoted to economic planning as part of the total development goals, said George W. Rusch, executive director of CUPEDD.

White Pine To Build Housing

White Pine Copper Co. has entered into a contract with Northern Niemela Construction Co. of Chassell to erect 10 houses on the White Pine townsite to be available for purchase by company employees, as well as by non-employees who work in White Pine.

"I expect that this construction program will start immediately," said White Pine Executive President J. M. Haivala. "It will provide custom-built homes ranging from 1,100 to 1,450 square feet in living area. If demand warrants, additional homes will be built."

The program is not intended to interfere with other private construction, said Haivala. Individuals may still purchase lots and employ their own contractor, but the company is participating only with Northern Niemela Construction Co. at this time.

The constant need for employees and the expanding production requirements of White Pine created the need for additional housing. The housing which is being provided is available to all employees, whether they have purchased an existing company home or are living elsewhere and wish to move to White Pine.

"It is felt that an increase in the population will stimulate well-rounded community growth, including expansion of community services," said Haivala. "This is the first step in a program designed to expand and improve living conditions in the townsite, and the response to this step will have a bearing on the steps to follow."

White Pine will provide assistance in engaging a contractor, providing a source of home financing, and down payment assistance by means of a low-interest loan. The new homes will be sold on a first-come, first-served basis.

Milliken Urges Miners To Vote

LANSING (AP) — Gov. William Milliken urged today that every member of United Steelworkers Local 4312 vote Sunday on a proposed contract settlement in the nine-month-old Calumet and Hecla strike in Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

"I realize that this is a complex issue and that it may be extremely difficult for members... to have to say yes or no when the time comes to vote," Milliken said, adding:

"However, much effort by the company, the union and many others has gone into settlement attempts, and the strike has brought a great deal of hardship to thousands in the Calumet area."

The governor said he was asking that every union member cast a ballot because "only if all vote can the outcome be considered an accurate measure of the decision of those people who are most directly affected."

Milliken, in Kentucky for the Republican Governors Conference, issued the statement through his Lansing office.

ATTENTION LOT OWNERS IN HOLY CROSS CEMETERY

It was the wish of the Holy Cross Cemetery Board of Directors to allow floral baskets in the Cemetery for another year. However, with the rising cost of labor and maintenance it was necessary that a charge of $2.00 be levied for each basket in Holy Cross Cemetery. This decision has met with opposition from the majority of lot owners who placed floral baskets on the graves of their loved ones.

Therefore, it is with regret that the Holy Cross Cemetery Board has been forced to make the following resolution:

"Effective immediately, the use of floral baskets in Holy Cross Cemetery, Escanaba, Michigan, will be discontinued. However, we remind you that natural flowers in approved cemetery type vases and potted or boxed plants placed near the stones are permitted. As in the past, artificial flowers and arrangements are prohibited in any form."

We are most anxious to maintain your Cemetery in keeping with its sacred character. Cemetery regulations are just like zoning regulations and perhaps they are better appreciated when one understands this fact. Cemetery regulations are made to work the same way to preserve the appearance and welfare of the ground that means so much to so many people.

Skyward Housing

Housing for the elderly and low income classes isn't new to the Upper Peninsula, but "high rise" housing of such character is.

Escanaba Housing Commission broke ground this week in downtown Escanaba for an 18 story apartment house which will be the "tallest building north of Milwaukee." (The boast reminds us of a similar claim heard in the Upper Peninsula before 1918 — and before Prohibition — that some town had a saloon "with the longest bar north of Milwaukee.")

The building will provide 176 small apartments for persons at least 62 years of age and with income of not more than $3,000 a year ($3,500 for couples). All the apartments have been spoken for and there's a waiting list, but applications still are being accepted.

The project introduces much more than a tower on the skyline for Escanaba and an expenditure of $2.6 million.

It has stirred up quite a little critical buzz among persons who think it's added to go up in the air so high with Uncle Charlie's ben when there's so much land in the Upper Peninsula without buildings on it.

This sort of concern can apparently be quite traumatic emotionally. We are "groundlings" (to borrow a word from the Elizabethan theater) by exposure and habit and to create architecture of tree house variety offends our sense of the familiar. City people are so accustomed to the high rise that the outland's lack of it gives them terraphobia, but Escanaba's reach for the sky had achieved only five stories (in the Bishop Noa Home for Senior Citizens) until the tower was conceived.

The site will take most of a block on Ludington St. across from the Post Office and hopefully the project will eventually use the full block. It is the greatest success to date in Escanaba's effort at downtown renewal. Most of the city's growth in commercial and professional establishments in recent years has been outside the downtown district.

The problems of clearing old buildings to create sites for new ones had been insuperable until the Building Commission went into partnership with Uncle Sam and got a 40-year loan to finance the tower. Hopefully it will be the first of many renewal projects, and certainly it has defied a strong drag to the west.

The city's most valuable area is its waterfront and the tower will make use of it. The low income people who live in it will have the best view in Escanaba. They will be the first clients and beneficiaries of a cooperative effort between the City of Escanaba and the Federal Government to crack the problem of high cost housing. (It is done by tax subsidy with a loan at less than commercial interest rate to the city.)

Efforts to renew Escanaba's downtown have tried to do it by expansion of commercial establishments. That failing, there is now to be a signal success with housing and it could start a movement back toward the beach, where the city had its beginning and first old age and blight.

The tower housing project was motivated by needs of the elderly with low income for lower priced, better quality housing. The method of meeting that need has created a great extra benefit by changing Escanaba's regard for its Oldtown.

The tower will be the most costly, largest, most dominant, most impressive thing in downtown Escanaba. It will change the public regard for the area it dominates. From having been a problem, looking for new usage, the area will — with the tower up — acquire a new attractiveness and desirability.

There will certainly be a "Why didn't we do this before?" reaction. Stores that have been tempted to up-anchor and move to the edge of town to get a big parking lot may reconsider and snuggle up to this area with new growth potential and the highest concentration of customers.

Tax Loopholes

Another April 15 is past and the "taxpayers' revolt" that former Secretary of the Treasury Joseph Barr warned about last January has yet to materialize.

If there is a revolt at all, it is going on at the local level, where fed-up taxpayers are voting down school levies and municipal issues—understandable but short-sighted behavior which in the long run will only harm them, their children and their communities.

There is, however, growing awareness among Americans that their long-held belief in the essential fairness of the federal income tax laws is mistaken. Rather than being a progressive system, which takes most from those who earn the most, it is actually quite otherwise.

Although they were not designed that way, the tax laws in practice work to make the rich richer because of a variety of loopholes, dodges and shelters.

More than 1,000 persons with incomes over $200,000 paid the same proportion of their total income in taxes as did the typical person in the $15,000 to $20,000 income group.

The majority of taxpayers in the $500,000 to $1 million income group paid as small a proportion of their incomes in taxes as did most taxpayers in the $20,000 to $50,000 category.

Even more significant is the fact that taxlessness among those with incomes of more than $1 million has increased five-fold in the past 12 years.

Tax loopholes serve a purpose and can be justified. Cities, for instance, might have a difficult time selling municipal bonds if the low, but tax-exempt, interest they pay were to be made taxable.

But there is something seriously amiss with a system that can take more from an individual on the poverty level than it does from a millionaire, that can even enable a man to report a negative income on paper when his actual income is in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

IGNORANCE AN EXCUSE?

It takes more than 100 volumes, each one huge, to describe what the American law is today. Viewing this mass of material, you may well quaver at the thought that every person is presumed to know the law—that ignorance of the law is no excuse.

Is that true? Are you really supposed to know everything in those books?

No—not in any absolute sense. For one thing, you cannot fairly be expected to know about laws that are totally unrelated to your own activities. A New York pedestrian, crossing Broadway, need not be aware of the jaywalking rules in Pasadena.

Furthermore, your ignorance of the law may be an excuse if you are accused of a crime that requires a specific guilty intent. Consider this case:

A landlady, noticing ink stains on the rug in a boarder's room, took possession of his radio. She planned to hold it until he paid for the damage to the rug. But he promptly retaliated by having her arrested on a charge of theft.

In court, the landlady pleaded ignorance of the law, saying she had honestly thought she had a right to take the radio. And the court decided she could not be convicted of theft, because she lacked the specific guilty intent called for in that crime.

Still, the rule that ignorance is no excuse does apply in the vast majority of cases. Our whole system of criminal justice would fall apart if the excuse of ignorance—so easy to claim, so hard to disprove—were to be generally accepted.

For example, imagine the chaos if every motorist who had been caught speeding could escape punishment by saying:

"I did go fast, Your Honor, but I didn't realize that speeding was against the law."

True, the ignorance rule may be hard on the occasional individual who really did not know he was breaking the law. There is some harshness in punishing a person who, as one judge put it, "stumbles over an edict in the dark."

But for the sake of practical law enforcement, some unfairness cannot be avoided. Said Oliver Wendell Holmes:

"Justice to the individual is outweighed by larger interests on the other side of the scales."

Animal Trainer Has Insurance Problem

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Just because he kisses a tiger on the paw twice a day, Gunther Gebel-Williams has been able to buy only $20,000 in life insurance.

"And the premium goes up every two years," he said.

At 34 Gunther is the new superstar of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus, an animal trainer so highly thought of in Europe that it bought up an entire German circus just to get his services.

His animal troupe includes nine tigers, 17 elephants, 40 horses, 5 pigeons, and 10 parrots.

The tiger Gunther smooches, Bengal, is one he raised from a cub. In the climax of his act he sits astride Bengal who is mounted on the back of an elephant.

Natural Enemies

"People in the audience rarely realize how difficult it is to get tigers and elephants to perform together," he said. "They are natural enemies. In India 20 per cent of baby elephants are killed by tigers."

"But I got the elephants used to Bengal when he was a cub. Most tigers can't stand to be touched. But Bengal loves for me to tickle him under the chin."

Gunther, a slender, blue-eyed man with startling yellow hair, is as handsome as a movie star and has attracted some interest among movie moguls. But the circus remains his world.

Patience

A man of leopardlike grace and vitality, Gunther works in the ring without a gun or chair. He avoids the loud dramatics of the Clyde Beatty school of animal training.

"You do it with your voice and the impression of strength you give the animals," he said. "They must respect you and feel that you understand them."

"But with tigers you must all the time be like Tarzan."

The task requires almost endless patience. It takes Gunther six months to teach a tiger to roll over on command. He spent a year perfecting the act in which he, Bengal and the elephant form a pyramid.

"You cannot tell a wild animal he simply must, must, must learn to do a trick today. You must feel that perhaps he will do better tomorrow."

WANTED — A good girl for general housework. Must be a good cook and neat housekeeper. Wages $7 per week. Two in family, call Gladstone, Michigan.

Fred L. Keeler, superintendent of public instruction, has had a day set aside in his honor by Thomas E. Johnson, Mr. Keeler's successor. Flags at all school houses were at half-mast throughout the day.

Gunther's arms are deeply scarred by claw marks from his surly charges. But he bears them no malice.

"When these things happen, it is always your own fault," he remarked philosophically. "It happens only when, during training, you get too close to them—so they claw you."

Stop Products Containing DDT

LANSING (AP)—The State Agriculture Department today said it has notified 45 manufacturers whose products contain DDT their registrations are being cancelled June 27.

The manufacturers and distributors have been notified they must file any appeals from this order by May 28.

Unless such appeals are successful, this would cut off the sale of DDT in Michigan.

The department took its action after the federal Food and Drug Administration seized Coho salmon taken from the Great Lakes and intended for commercial sale because of their high DDT content.

The federal agency has set five parts per one-million as the interim danger level in fish intended for human consumption. Any fish with five parts per one-million or more of DDT will not be allowed on the commercial market.

Approval of the use of DDT was withdrawn based on a report of the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station that there are pesticides now available that are less hazardous, the department said.

Some 700 distributors of economic poisons containing DDT also have been notified of the department action.

Brennan's Plan Elects Justices Nonpartisan Way

LANSING (AP)—Chief Justice Thomas Brennan of the Michigan Supreme Court today endorsed a proposal to elect justices in a totally nonpartisan manner.

Justices currently are nominated at state party political conventions even though there is no party designation on the ballot.

"When the judge goes to the electorate, he goes alone—to be accepted or rejected on his own merit—and without the right to ask any man's vote on the basis of partisan loyalty, discipline, party or party discipline," Brennan said in a law day speech to a joint session of the Legislature.

"I am personally pleased to see that there is pending before this Legislature now a bill which would extend this principle of nonpartisanship to the last remaining relic of a bygone day—the system of nominating justices of the Supreme Court."

"Given a nonpartisan primary election for nominations to the Supreme Court the two great political parties of Michigan will be unbundled of the biennial chore of finding candidates to be noisily nominated and promptly disowned," Brennan said.

"Incumbent justices will be unbundled of the prospect of a re-election contest which stems not from a judgment about his qualifications, but from the necessity of filling the ticket."

BIDDING QUIZ

You are South, both sides vulnerable. The bidding has been:

West North East South
1♦ Pass Pass ?

What would you bid now with each of the following five hands?

1. ♠752 ♥K93 ♦AJ9 ♣KJ84
2. ♠A964 ♥QJ7 ♦AQ5 ♣KQ9
3. ♠KJ765 ♥J872 ♦6 ♣KJ5
4. ♠AKS ♥J64 ♦KQ9873 ♠5
5. ♠AKQJ7 ♥AJ8 ♦74 ♣KQ3

1. One notrump. When the bidding is about to die at a low level, you are permitted to make bids you would ordinarily not make in any other position. Such bids in the protective seat frequently do not have their usual meaning.

The player in the balancing seat has only a choice between competing or passing. If he chooses to compete, his bid should be viewed with at least a modicum of suspicion. The notrump bid in this sequence cannot, and should not, be expected to have the normal complement of 16 to 18 points. It may be based on as little as 10 or 12 points, and should rarely have as many as 15 points.

2. Double. If you had this hand in the North position, it would be normal to overcall with one notrump, but, when you are in the balancing seat, it becomes necessary to distinguish the true notrump overcall from the protective one. The way to show genuine values in the protective position is by doubling. You can rebid in notrump later to complete the description of your hand.

3. One spade. This is not much of a hand, as hands go, but it is better to bid than to pass. The chances favor partner's having 10 points or so, which give you a shot at a part score or even a game, that would be lost if you threw in the sponge at this point. Partner is not expected to take your balancing bid very seriously.

4. Pass. Your opponents couldn't be in a worse position, so there's not much point in disturbing them. The chances are that West will go down a few in one diamond, and you may wind up scoring a good-sized plus. Besides, North can't have much of a hand, since he's marked to be short in diamonds, yet did not bid over one diamond despite this.

5. Double. In this case you have values that are independent of your being in the protective position. It is much better to double to show an all-around hand than to jump in spades to indicate strength. A two spade bid would suggest a hand designed exclusively for a spade contract, but the fact is that this hand can also play well in either notrump or hearts, if North is so inclined.

Appeal Stays Obscene Charge

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Floyd Bloss, Grand Rapids bookstore owner and theater operator, was ordered released from jail Thursday by the U.S. 6th Circuit Court of Appeals.

Bloss was sentenced to three nine-month jail terms following his conviction on obscenity charges. The U.S. District Court ordered him released April 21 pending an appeal, but Kent County officials requested a stay of this order and the Cincinnati court granted it.

Thursday's action reverses the court's decision of Monday.

Ann Landers

Turn Volume Down Or Face Deafness

Dear Ann Landers: Last night my 16-year-old granddaughter gave a party. There were at least 30 teen-agers in the house. They rolled back the rugs, moved all the furniture on the porch and played music for dancing. I didn't see any dancing—just some catatonic, zombie-like motions and a lot of jerking and shaking.

What disturbed me more than anything was the music. It gave me a splitting headache. The kids these days insist on turning up the stereo amplifier as high as it will go. It virtually assaults the eardrums.

I notice that our teen-age grandchildren do not hear their parents when they speak in normal conversational tones. Unless instructions are screamed they are ignored. I think the kids are actually deaf. My husband says, "There's nothing wrong with their hearing. They hear when they want to."

Tell me, Ann, is it possible that our teen-agers are becoming hard of hearing because of the loud music they seem to idolize? If so, someone should tell them.—Antique Ada

Dear Ann: Someone has told them. Ear specialists are deeply concerned and have said so. It has been proved that loud music produces serious hearing problems among the young. Several cases of permanent deafness among musicians have been noted. So take heed, kids, and turn down the volume. Do you hear me out there? I SAY —TURN DOWN THE VOLUME!!!!

Dear Ann Landers: My mother is 53 and looks 40. After Dad died two years ago Mum started to go with a divorced man who is about five years her junior. Barry is handsome, charming, allergic to work in any form and, in my opinion, rotten to the core.

I've seen Barry around town with at least three different chippies. Of course I've never mentioned it to anyone. About a month ago Mum and I ran into Barry and a trolop, or should I say THEY ran into us.

Serviceman Dies On Second Tour

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—After recovering from wounds suffered during his first tour of duty in Vietnam, Sgt. Loren J. Sipperry volunteered to return to combat and he died one month later in a helicopter crash.

Loren H. Sipperry of Grand Rapids was informed of his son's death Wednesday. The Army said the 24-year-old soldier was killed Friday near the demilitarized zone. He previously had served 10 months in Vietnam and his death came one month after he returned to combat, the father said.

Sipperry twice was awarded the Bronze Star for gallantry in Vietnam and also was presented the South Vietnamese Gallantry Award. He was attached to the First Cavalry.

Literally. I was parking the car and Barry's car sideswiped us. No one was hurt but Mom fell apart when she saw them (Barry was supposed to be out of town.)

Since that night Mum has had stomach pains and has been doctoring to beat the band. She's had x-rays, is taking pills and sedatives and is on a special diet. Her doctor can't find anything wrong with her. I know she is tied up in knots over her love affair which is going haywire.

Should I make an appointment to see the Doctor and tell him the background before she quits him and goes to another doctor who might take out her gall bladder?—Worried Daughter

Dear Daughter: It is extremely helpful to the physician if he knows something about the patient's emotional problems. I suggest that you write the doctor a note. An appointment would take up valuable time which could be spent with a patient.

'Bleeder' Off Critical List

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A Portland, Ore., man who suffers from hemophilia was reported in fair condition with recovery prospects "good" following surgery to remove tumors in his leg.

David Jones, 27, underwent 11 hours of surgery April 22 at University of Michigan Hospital after being flown by Air Force plane from Portland to Ann Arbor.

"We believe the bleeding problem is licked, the only thing we're afraid of now is infection," Dr. Barbara Avren, an attending physician, said Thursday at an informal news conference.

The blood clotting Factor VIII was administered to Jones during the surgery, in which tumors were removed from his thigh and abdomen and a fractured leg was pinned. The following day a small portion of bone was removed from his left leg to aid the blood circulation, said Dr. Avren.

She said he required 54 pints of blood during and immediately after the surgery but needed only three pints during the past two days.

D. Ronald Gunderman, 613 Michigan Ave., was honored at retirement dinner at Arrowhead Inn Wednesday night. Gunderman is retiring after almost 36 years service with Inland Lime & Stone Co. He began his employment on June 6, 1933, became Assistant Master Mechanic on Jan. 1, 1954 and Master Mechanic on Feb. 1, 1962, a position he held

Big Bay Voters Told To Register For Board Vote

Voters of the Big Bay de Noc school District are reminded that the last day for registration for the June 9 school election is May 9 at 5 p.m. Any registered voter, not only property owners, may vote in the school election. Non-registered, eligible voters may register at the township clerk's office.

Nominating petitions for candidates who wish to run for the school board may be secured from board secretary Robert Johnson at his home in Isabella or from the Nahma School office. All petitions must be completed and filed with Johnson by Monday, May 12 at 4 p.m.

First Call For Babe Ruth Players

Registration forms will soon be available from the Manistique Area Schools for those boys interested in playing in a Babe Ruth Baseball League. All 13, 14 and 15 year old boys in the area are eligible to participate.

Sponsors of the Schoolcraft Area Babe Ruth League are Manistique Lions Club, Manistique Tool and Manufacturing Union, Knights of Columbus and the Manistique Shell Oil, Inc. All sponsors will contribute $300 each for the purchase of uniforms and equipment.

First game is scheduled for June 5, second game for June 10 and after June 17 all games will be played on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Jack Roemer is league president; William Pistulka, vice president; Robert Clark, secretary; and Dan Henrichsen, treasurer.

Briefly Told

Russell L. Hoffmeyer, Rte. 1, Manistique was cited for speeding by state police on Wednesday.

The Manistique High School sophomore class will sponsor a car wash at Nelson's "66" Service Station from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday.

Addie Rebekah and Rock River Lodge will sponsor a Pancake Supper, featuring Eric Strom Maple Syrup, at the Gould City Community Building Sunday, May 4. Serving will be from 4 to 8 p.m. Adult tickets are priced at $1.00 and children 50 cents. Children under five will be admitted free. A bake sale will also be held.

Two memorial books have been donated to the Manistique School and Public Library by friends and her bowling team in memoriam to the late Mrs. Harvey Pike. "Hubbell: A Copper Country Village" by Donald Chaput and "Elementary Teacher's Complete Ideas Handbook" by Sidney and Iris Tiedt have been processed and are available for circulation.

Mrs. Christensen Receives 4-H Leader Award

Mrs. Clifford Christensen received a 15-year leader award at the Hiawatha 4-H Awards Night held Wednesday at the Hiawatha School Gym.

Mrs. Christensen is a Basic Conservation leader in the Hiawatha area. She received her award from Cooperative Extension Agent Howard Handorf, who also served as master of ceremonies during the evening program.

About 70 4-H'ers were honored with pins and awards in the following fields: crafts, foods and nutrition, woodworking, knitting, clothing, sewing and art. Handiwork of the clubs was displayed in the gym.

Mrs. G. Leslie Bouschor led the group in games and later played her accordion, in a duet with Larry Brady and his guitar, to lead the group in singing. Dwight Brady and Rita Aldrich led the 4-H pledge. Cindy Aldrich and Patty Johnston offered the Pledge of Allegiance. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

Fencil Found Guilty Of Negligent Homicide

The April term of Circuit Court concluded this week in Schoolcraft County with Judge George S. Baldwin of Munising sentencing four respondents found guilty by the court.

Jerome Fencil of Dearborn Heights was sentenced to 15 months probation and ordered to pay court costs of $500 after being found guilty of negligent homicide.

Fencil's eight-year-old son, Blaze and the driver of another car, Murtain M. Warren of Muskegon, were killed as

Governor's Day Tickets Available

Tickets are still available for the "Governor's Day" dinner at the St. Francis Parish Center on Wednesday, May 7. Mrs. John Moffat, vice chairman of the Republican county committee said.

Tickets, priced at $2.50 per person, may be secured by calling Mrs. Moffat, 341-5526, Mrs. George Wood, 341-5117, or Mrs. A. W. Cockram, 341-2766. Reservation deadline is Monday, May 5.

In addition to Gov. William Milliken, who will speak following the dinner, Rep. Charles Varnum, Congressman Philip Ruppe, Lincoln Frasier of Marquette, 11th District committeeman, and Murle Edinger, 11th District field representative, will also attend the event.

Discharged were Danalee Henry, Charles Tatrow, Angela King, Mary Borko, Edward Udell, Hazel Williams, Fronia McKenzie, Ora Farley, Tim Carley and Gladys Lockwood.

Bar Petitions For Reforms

LANSING (AP) — The State Bar of Michigan has petitioned the State Supreme Court for reforms in licensing and policing powers over the legal profession.

Current rules, said Gilbert H. Davis, bar president, "do not give the bar sufficient flexibility and the specific power to move promptly in disciplining lawyers guilty of professional misconduct and consequently do not protect the public interest adequately."

The petition, submitted Thursday, calls for:

—Creation of a state grievance panel of 20 attorneys and eight laymen appointed by the governor to investigate complaints against lawyers and hold hearings.

—The right of anyone to file a request with his local county clerk for an investigation of a lawyer.

—Authority for the bar's 16-member Board of Commissioners to go directly to court in "exceptional cases," bypassing regular disciplinary procedures to protect the public. This change also would eliminate discipline by local bar associations.

—Provisions to suspend a lawyer who failed to appear when requested before a grievance board.

—Requirement that all lawyers report violations of conduct by fellow lawyers.

—An expanded definition of misconduct, including any criminal law conviction plus any knowing misrepresentation of facts surrounding a grievance complaint.

—Tighter eligibility for reinstatement after suspension or disbarment.

A spokesman for the Supreme Court said the justices could act this spring on the petition.

Official Cars, Osteopathic School

House Set To Handle Two Sensitive Issues

LANSING (AP) — Two sensitive issues—authorizing cars for the personal use of elected state officials and creation of an osteopathic medical school—occupied the House Thursday.

Final action on bills allocating $335 million from bonds for water pollution and sewer construction were postponed at least until today. The delay, said Rep. George F. Montgomery, Democratic floor leader, allowed final study by some few legislators still skeptical about possible porkbarreling.

Also moved into position for final action, although without clear indication of passing, was a bill to require motorcyclists to wear crash helmets. Opponents lauded the safety measures, saying it would promote safety but noted the state appeals court has held an individual may not be required to protect himself from himself by wearing a helmet.

Limited Use

Gov. William Milliken, Sen. Thomas Schweigert, R-Petoskey, Secretary of State James Hare and Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley would receive free use of state-owned cars under a bill now up for final house vote after previous passage in the Senate.

Use of the car would be limited to official duties.

Before voting preliminary approval, skittish legislators emphatically rejected a proposal that they vote themselves use of state cars.

Accreditation

The proposal, introduced by Rep. Phillip O. Pittenger, R-Lansing, sought to dramatize his complaint that Lansing legislators are denied travel expenses granted more distant legislators.

Pittenger's proposal filed by unanimous vote of all 58 members in the House at the time.

Rep. Edgar Geerlings, R-Muskegon, apparently spoke what all believed. "If this gets in my newspaper back home, it'll cause an awful lot of trouble," Geerlings said.

Creation of a state osteopathic medical school was held up after opponents challenged accreditation of the school.

Supporters of the bill, Reps. Josephine Hunsinger, D-Detroit, Arthur Law, D-Pontiac, and Dale Kildee, D-Flint, seek to authorize a college to be affiliated with Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

Opponents have proposed the college be affiliated with Oakland University and established there. But it is unclear, some said, whether Oakland University, northeast of Pontiac and itself an administrative subordinate of Michigan State, could accept operation of the college without approval from Michigan State.

Arguing for a separate college, Kildee said the school should be independent because the American Medical Association likely would not grant accreditation for osteopathic courses.

Public Waters

Two other bills are up for final House action which could come today.

One offered by Rep. Warren Goemaerer, D-Roseville, seeks to amend the inland lakes and streams act to redefine "public waters." The definition would include small boat navigation, fishing capability and public access without trespass on private land.

Small loan business would be limited to transaction of no more than $5,000 under a bill introduced by Rep. James H. Heinze, R-Battle Creek. James Farnsworth, R-Plainwell, an automobile dealer, sought to reduce the ceiling to $2,000.

Maximum interest small loan companies could charge would be 2 1/2 per cent per month or some 30 per cent annually on the first $400 principal. A reduced rate would apply for the remainder up to the $5,000 limit.

What will the committee accomplish?

"I don't know whether we can do anything," Pepper answered. "But I intend to try."

Wisconsin Gets Flood Support

By The Associated Press

The Mississippi River rolled toward a crest today at St. Louis, but Army engineers indicated the peak would be only slightly above flood stage and only minor lowland flooding was expected.

A similar appraisal was given for Saturday when waters of the Missouri River, which empties into the Mississippi just above St. Louis, were expected to create a second crest there.

Melting snows in the northern Midwest and Plains pushed the Mississippi and Missouri tributaries out of their banks in Iowa, the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wisconsin last month and caused millions of dollars in damage. On the Illinois side of the Mississippi, dikes and the natural terrain were high enough to prevent major flooding.

President Nixon declared Wisconsin a major disaster area Thursday and allocated $500,000 in federal aid to restore areas ravaged by the Mississippi.

In Minot, N. D., about 2,000 residents returned to homes they evacuated when waters of the Souris River spilled over the town last month. However, another 10,000 or more persons still were waiting for the Souris to recede.

Maverick's hot! Any questions?

Measure it any way you like. By the crowds. The news stories. The sales. Few cars have caused a sensation like Maverick or broken so many records. Every day more and more people are asking questions about it. Here are the answers.

Q. Why did you build the Maverick?

A. We think of Maverick as another one of Ford Motor Company's answers to the gold drain. Now Americans who want small car economy don't have to send their U.S. dollars overseas.

Q. Why did you call it Maverick?

A. You know what a maverick is. A maverick breaks the rules. A Maverick is different. Maverick plugs the big gap between the compacts and the imports. It has a wheelbase eight inches shorter than a '69 Falcon, eight and one-half inches longer than a VW 1500. Nothing else like it.

Q. Why did you make it this size?

A. Maverick pinches pennies, not people. We gave Maverick more leg room. More shoulder room. More luggage room. Good example: the front seat of a Maverick offers you nine inches more shoulder room than the front seat of the leading economy import and its trunk can handle all the luggage for a family of four, including a set of golf clubs.

Q. What do I get for the price?

A. You get your money's worth. A complete, built-for-Americans kind of car. Room. Hot styling. Color-keyed interiors. Even the heater is included. Some economy car interiors are about as luxurious as a park bench. Not Maverick's. You get plush seats. Cloth and vinyl upholstery with unique tartan plaid cloth inserts. You also get safety features like smart pull-out door handles. Strong safety door locks. Two-speed electric windows. Safety belts. Head restraints. Plus conveniences like armrests, coat hooks, lighted heater controls... important little things that add so much to your driving comfort.

Q. What about options?

A. You can get 'em if you want 'em. You can order integral air conditioning. (It's built in, not hung on.) Other options include 3-speed automatic or low-cost semiautomatic transmission, and a hefty 200 CID Six. But lots of people won't put an extra cent into this car. Because it's all there. A complete car all ready to drive home.

Q. What kind of gas mileage can I get?

A. That depends on you as well as the car. You can get as much as 25 or 26 miles per gallon—if you have an educated toe and the right road conditions. If you have a lead foot, or do a lot of city driving, you will get a lot less. In tests by professional drivers at our tracks, where we do our best to duplicate actual driving conditions, Maverick averaged 22.5 mpg.

Q. What kind of power does Maverick have?

A. Maverick's Six lets loose 105 galloping horses. That's 52 more than you get in the 4-cylinder VW 1500. Maverick can cover 417 feet in ten seconds from a standing start. That means you can get up to highway speed in a hurry. When you enter a 70 mph turnpike, you won't feel like a retired bookkeeper thrust into the middle of a pro football game.

Q. If it has an eight inch longer wheelbase than the leading import, does it still handle and park easily?

A. Maverick can U-turn in a tighter circle (35.6 feet) than the leading economy import (36.0 feet). Maverick can slant through traffic like a halfback. It can turn on a dime and give you nine cents change. If you've been driving any other American car, you'll find Maverick's neat size adds up to 5 1/2 feet to any parking space.

Q. Can Detroit really build a small economy car that's tough and long lasting?

A. It's not easy, but we did it. Maverick's unitized body construction makes it light, strong and durable. It's welded like a battleship. Rustproofing compound goes into deep crevices that never see the light of day. Then all that strength is covered with four coats of paint for lasting beauty. Result: one tough little car that's put together to stay together. (The service schedule in the Maverick owner's manual goes up to 108,000 miles or nine years; that ought to tell you something about its rugged durability.)

Q. How about parts and service?

A. Maverick is designed to be unusually easy to service. You're dealing with made-in-America parts and 6,000 easy-to-find Ford Dealers. Fast repairs and easy replacements mean extra savings in both time and money.

Q. Is Maverick really easier and less expensive to maintain than an economy import?

A. Definitely. Maverick oil changes come only every 6,000 miles and chassis lubrication once every 36,000 miles. The leading economy import recommends oil changes every 3,000 miles (twice as often as Maverick) and chassis lubrication every 6,000 miles (six times as often as Maverick). Those are just a few examples of the many ways Maverick lessens inconvenience and lowers operating cost.

Q. Can I do my own maintenance work?

A. Yes, if you have an average amount of mechanical ability. The Maverick owner's manual contains 24 pages of detailed diagrams and easy-to-follow instructions for routine maintenance jobs you can do yourself, if you wish. You'll find it easy to change spark plugs, replace ignition points... plus many other do-it-yourself repairs and replacements.

Q. Can a small car be safe? And how safe is safe?

A. This small car incorporates the latest advances in engineering. Maverick's brakes are as big as a standard compact—designed to stop cars weighing hundreds of pounds more. Maverick gives you weight... power... stability. Designed for American driving conditions.

Q. How does Maverick ride?

A. Here's where Maverick's longer, wider stance really pays off. You get a smoother, quieter ride. Maverick's tight, strong, unitized body helps eliminate squeaks and rattles. Special insulation blocks out road noise. The people who brought you a Ford that was quieter than a Rolls-Royce now bring you a small car that doesn't sound like a power mower.

Q. Is there an advantage in the fact that Maverick is really a 1970 car?

A. Slower depreciation is one money-in-the-pocket advantage. Maverick's 1970 model designation means it keeps its trade-in value higher, longer. (Maverick is built to be a good investment from the minute you buy it to the minute you sell it.)

Better come take a look at this one. You'll find it where the action is... right in there with other great Ford values like specially equipped Ford Galaxie 500's... Fairlanes... Mustangs and Falcons.

You'll find them at your Ford Dealer's... the place you've got to go to see what's going on.

of melon colored tinted mums and baby's breath to match her princess style dress which was also melon color.

Serving as bestman for his brother was Bill Roman of Keweenaw, Wis. and groomsmen were James Cornell of Gladstone and Herman Shea of Escanaba. Seating the wedding guests were Dwayne Willyard of Escanaba and Tom Roman of Brampton.

Bridal Satin
The bride wore for her wedding a floor length princess style gown of white bridal satin with a lace overlay, fashioned with bell sleeves of Chantilly lace and a chapel train also trimmed in Chantilly lace.

A petaled tiara with pearl trim held her shoulder length veil of English silk illusion and she carried a colonial cluster bouquet of white carnations and baby's breath. Her only jewelry was a diamond pendant, a gift of the bridegroom.

The bridesmaids were attired in floor length satin gowns with matching headpieces. The honor maid wore mint green and the bridesmaids, melon. They were also presented cross pendants, a gift of the bride.

Miniature Bride
Patricia Willyard, a niece of the bride, was the miniature bride, and was attired identically to the bride. She carried a miniature bouquet of white carnations and baby's breath.

Mrs. Elmer Dahn wore for her daughter's wedding a deep pink knit dress with bone and pink accessories and she was presented a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Roman selected a blue knit dress with white accessories and she pinned a yellow carnation corsage.

The reception was held at the Perkins Hall. The newlyweds will reside in Kipling. The bride is a 1967 graduate of Gladstone High School and Mr. Roman is a 1965 graduate of the same school.

Hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise:

When sewing, I have a tendency to wind too much thread on the bobbin. The extra thread is then left on the bobbin after the garment is finished.

This creates a problem when time comes to start a new project should I cover up the old thread or take time to unwind it?

After being in this situation one time too many I finally hit upon a solution:

After the garment is finished and I'm preparing to do the hand work (such as hems and facing) I use the leftover thread on the bobbin instead of new thread from the spool. This puts an end to cover-up-or-unwind dilemma and it's so thrifty.

Lindy Dyke

Dear Heloise:

Ever wonder where to use spray starch so it doesn't spot everything around the article being treated?

I lay garments on the wrong side of a rather limp shag rug. When I finished I put the rug across a kitchen chair to dry.

No more mess and when the ironing is done, I have a well-bodied shag rug to boot!

Mrs. H. A. Johnson

Dear Heloise:

I like to make fancy cutout cookies for my grandchildren but always had trouble transferring them to the baking sheet—especially the legs on animal cookies.

I thought up an idea one day that solved my problem.

I made my cookie dough and rolled it out right on the cookie sheet. Then cut out the cookies right there — on the sheet!

With a sharp knife, I cut away the excess dough and baked the cookies. They turned out absolutely perfect.

If the recipe calls for a greased pan, you can grease and flour it before rolling the dough.

Mrs. W. E. Bean

Fantabulous! I have to admit you're one smart cookie! Heloise

Justice Defends Negro Discontent

LANSING (AP) — Addressing a joint legislative session marking Law Day Thursday, Michigan Supreme Court Chief Justice Thomas Brennan defended the discontent of Negro urban ghetto dwellers.

"For too long have the black people of our cities been smeared by the wide brush of public reaction to the crimes of some black men," Brennan said. "It is time we gave them the tools... with which to discipline their errant brothers."

"Controversy has always been the stuff of our jurisprudence," Brennan added.

"It is not easy to be your brother's keeper. It cannot be done in comfort or without pain... and it takes bigness, too."

"The kind of bigness which permits a man to stand alone in the face of criticism and to accept without excuse unshared responsibility."

Supports Crockett

Brennan referred to the New Bethel Church incident, then went on to discuss working police-court operations. He said then, "If the police officer has cause to arrest, the prosecutor has cause to prosecute."

Crockett has been under fire since the incident for his release of about 100 persons, some of whom police had wanted detained.

An earlier Brennan speech was widely interpreted as supporting controversial Detroit Recorder's Court Judge George W. Crockett.

Brennan consistently has refused to say if he implied approval of Crockett's handling of cases of some 100 persons detained for a time by Detroit police after the New Bethel Church shooting incident on March 29.

Noting that "communication between the judiciary and the other two (governmental branches) is not always what it ought to be," the 40-year-old judge reviewed recent changes in the state's judicial system.

Awesome Power

The newly instituted Judicial Tenure Commission, which reports directly to the High Court, "is now in business," Brennan said. "It's awesome power has already been felt in some quarters."

"For a long time the misdeeds of some few judges caused embarrassment (to) the entire judiciary; the quick slap of public approbation has been felt by all of us who wear the black robes."

The legal profession, Brennan said, sets higher admission standards than any other, "but the number of lawyers annually disciplined, suspended and disbarred far exceeds the number in other professions."

"The wide tar brush of public disapproval which marks us all, marks fairly," he said.

Train Troopers On Speed Traps

EAST LANSING (AP) — State Police have started training the first of about 200 troopers in the use of a new electronic gadget to trap speeders.

The computer unit is called VASCAR — for Visual Average Speed Computer and Recorder.

The unit allows an officer to check the speed of any vehicle regardless of its direction or speed in any kind of weather, day or night, and whether the patrol car is parked or cruising.

The compact box is mounted on the dashboard of the car. Once the officer flicks a switch, the computer gives a report of the speed of the target vehicle.

State police have purchased 100 of the units with the help of $85,000 in federal matching funds. The computer will be put into use around July 1. One or more of the units will be located at every State Police post in the state.

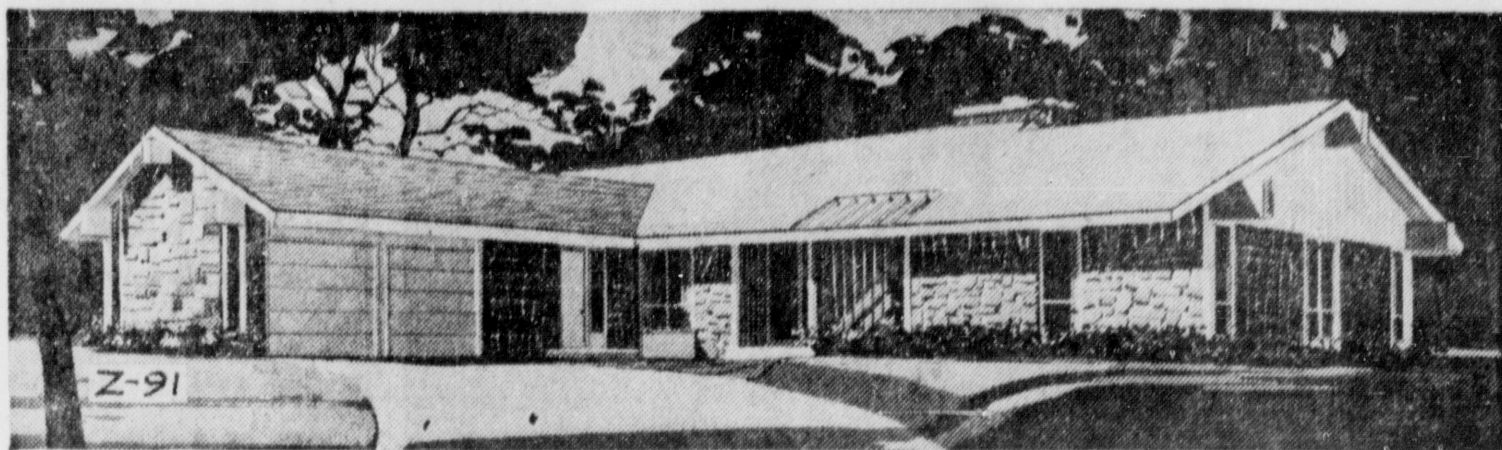

Senate To Study Mass Arrests

LANSING (AP) — A study of mass arrest procedures—called for after Recorder's Court Judge George Crockett came under fire for handling of mass arrests in the New Bethel Church shoot-out—was authorized Thursday by the State Senate.

The resolution, already approved by the House, passed on a voice vote and was returned to the lower chamber for concurrence in minor amendments.

The measure cites Crockett's "allegedly hasty intervention in the prearrest proceedings involving the slaying of Detroit Police Patrolman Michael Czapki."

That action, the resolution says, "has illustrated the problems of prearrestment procedures in mass arrests and individual arrest in large numbers and caused considerable public concern."

CONTEMPORARY RANCH with individual touches that warrant more than a passing glance. Protruding beams from the bedroom wing and the garage are among the eye-catchers. Note, too, the trellised arrangement at the front of the roof, adding light and interesting shadows.

Ranch With Rustic Flavor

By ANDY LANG

The first thing that strikes you about this four-bedroom ranch is its rustic yet elegant facade.

That may sound like a paradox, but the clean lines, vertical windows and over-all simplicity give it elegance, while the stone material, supplemented with vertical siding, gives it the rustic character. Throughout the entire house, there is a combination of formality and informality, of sophisticated design and intimacy.

The main entrance features a spacious portico recessed into the building and is flanked by a planting bed. A trellised roof over this bed gives additional light. The portico smoothly leads into a welcoming foyer, which has a slate floor recalling the exterior slate on the SLATE FLOOR of the portico is carried inside to this foyer, with an immediate view of the sunken living room's stone fireplace. Sliding glass doors lead to an open terrace and a covered porch.

Z-91 STATISTICS

Design Z-91 has a living room, dining room, kitchen, family room, four bedrooms, two baths and a lavatory, with a habitable area of 1969 square feet. There is an oversized two-car garage, a laundry and service area, a covered porch, an open terrace and a partial basement. The over-all dimensions, including the garage, are 64' 4" by 76' 4". Where brick is more available or more desirable, it can be substituted for the exterior stone without impairing the character of the design.

portico. One immediately catches a glimpse of the living room's stone fireplace, which also carries off the rustic quality of the exterior.

Architect Samuel Paul has located the sunken living room directly off the foyer. Two steps below it, in addition to the fireplace, is a planter separating the living room from a gallery leading to the kitchen. On the living room side, the planter is high enough to provide adequate wall space for furniture. Sliding glass doors off the living room give access to a covered porch and to a large open terrace. Towards the front and off the gallery is the formal dining room.

The informal area — consisting of kitchen, family room and covered porch — is adjacent to both the living and dining rooms. There is easy access to the main entrance and service doors. There is an entry from the two-car garage directly into a service hall which also has a door to the outside. Off this hall are a stairway leading to the basement and a lavatory and clothes closet. The laundry room, convenient to the family room-kitchen area, includes a sink and space for a washer-dryer and for either a pantry or other storage. There is direct access from these spaces to the out-of-doors.

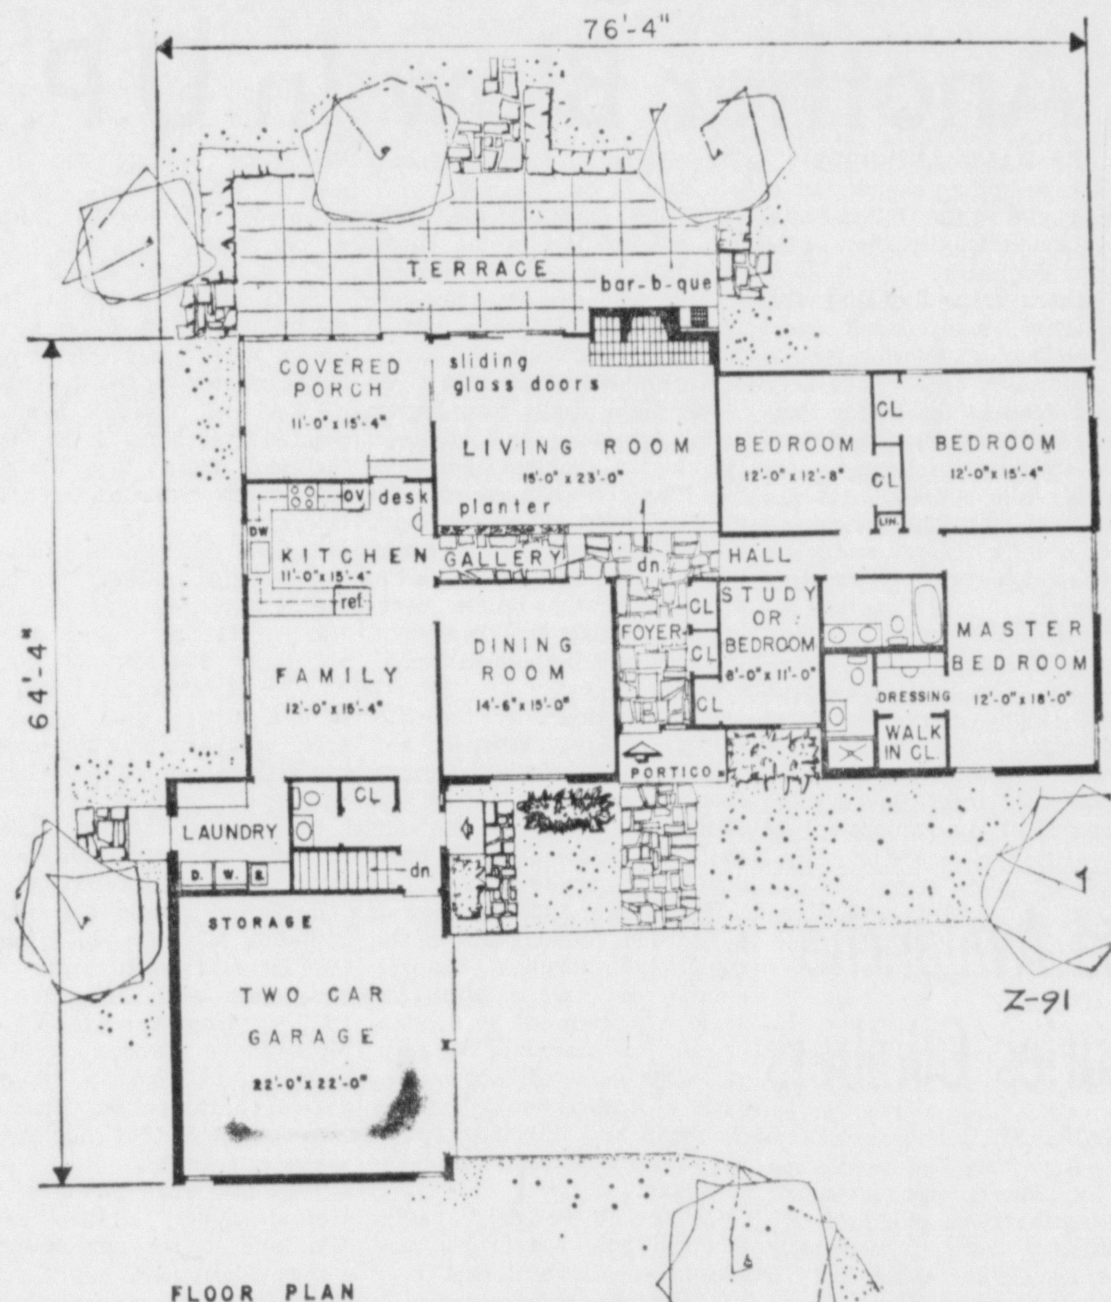

Featured in the U-shaped kitchen is a communications-planning desk which could include anything from favorite recipe books, writing materials, telephone, intercom to a portable TV, in addition to the dishwasher, refrigerator, built-in range with attractive hood, and an abundance of counter space and cabinets. There is easy access from the kitchen to the formal dining room, covered porch and to the family room, which is extended from the kitchen, making it one huge area.

The bedroom wing includes a master suite and three other bedrooms. The suite has a large bedroom area, a dressing room with a walk-in closet and mirrored walls and vanity, and a full bath with a stall shower. It is an excellent combination of luxury and privacy. The other bedrooms are serviced by a centrally located bathroom equipped with a double vanity, tub and shower. All bedrooms are off the central hall and there is closet space in abundance.

Stone and vertical board-and-batten are combined in the exterior, with protruding beams adding a distinctive appearance to this distinctive house.

PRISONER SIGNED IN

GREELEY, Colo. (AP) — When Miss Sera Anderson opened the package containing her 1969 automobile license plates, one tag carried the usual two letters followed by four numerals. But the other carried the name, "Robert." The plates are made by prisoners at the Colorado Penitentiary.

FLOOR PLANS: Attractive foyer serves as practical starting point for excellent circulation pattern, enabling traffic to move freely to all parts of the house. Covered porch and rear terrace, both accessible from the living room, assure pleasant outdoor living.

No Progress In GM Strike

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. reported Thursday its production of cars and trucks in April was off 5.3 per cent from last year, indicating the firm had been setting a strong pace for the month until hit by strikes in six states.

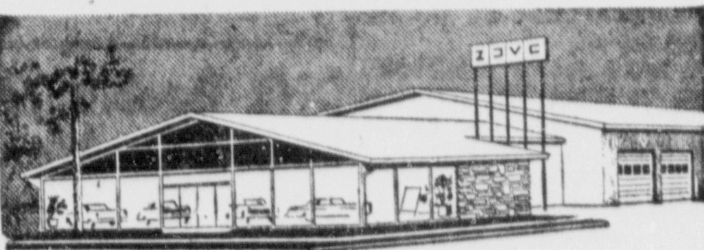

Car and truck production for the month was off by 28,280 units while production lost through strikes was figured at 37,015, according to General Motors figures.

No progress toward settlement of the strikes was revealed Thursday as the figure of workers idled in the action hovered around the 50,000 mark.

About 28,000 workers struck Monday, a deadline set by the United Auto Workers for its locals trying to hammer out new agreements forced by GM consolidation of Fisher Body and Chevrolet divisions.

As the weekend approached effects of the strike had idled thousands more engaged in feeder plant operations—production of parts directly related to production at the assembly plants. First to feel the pinch were workers in two New York radiator plants.

Be Familiar With Types Of Plywood

By ANDY LANG

Because fir plywood is the kind you usually get when you walk into a lumber yard and ask merely for plywood, most persons are unaware of the many varieties of this material.

The two basic kinds of plywood are interior and exterior. Both are made in the same manner: by gluing together sheets of veneer, usually at right angles to one another. But the exterior type is bonded with a special adhesive designed for permanent outside exposure.

The two basic classes of plywood are softwood and hardwood. The popular fir falls into the softwood category, along with pine, cedar, redwood, larch, cypress and many others. The hardwoods include walnut, oak, birch, maple, mahogany and cherry. Incidentally, the designation depends on the kind of wood used for the face or top veneer.

Within the types and classes of plywood are several grades, most of which refer to the appearance of the face and back. A-A grade is tops; A-B indicates an excellent face, with a slightly less perfect appearance on the back; A-C and A-D grades are used where only one side of the panel will be seen in the finished project.

Why is fir plywood the best seller? Because it is the least expensive yet has tremendous strength. However, it requires the use of a special sealer to prevent its wild grain from coming through the finish coat. There are two kinds of fir plywood sealer: one for use on wood which is to be finished with a transparent material, such as varnish, shellac or lacquer; the other for wood which is to be painted. Hardwood plywoods are treated in the same manner as solid hardwood. (For Andy Lang's helpful booklet "Wood Finishing in the Home," send 25 cents and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Know-How, P.O. Box 477, Huntington, N.Y., 11743.)

Those who have worked with regular lumber are surprised to find, when they make their first purchase of plywood, that the dimensions are exact. That is, if you buy a piece of half-inch plywood 4 feet by 8 feet, those are its measurements. With regular lumber, the dimensions refer to the wood before it was sanded and prepared at the mill.

A big advantage of plywood is that it is not susceptible to splitting, even when nails and screws are driven close to the panel edges. When cutting plywood with a table or radial saw, the good side of the plywood should be face up. When using a portable power saw, the good side should be face down. With a handsaw, it should be face up.

In drilling small-diameter holes in plywood with either hand or power drills, use a piece of wood behind the panel to avoid splintering if the appearance of that side of the panel is important. For large holes, using a brace and bit, employ the same technique, but instead of going straight through, stop as soon as the point of the bit appears. Reverse the panel and work from the other side to complete the hole.

PADUCAH, Ky. (AP) — While Wilbur Cashon, manager of the Ritz Hotel, was visiting in Italy he became friends with a family there.

Upon his return, he wrote a letter, on hotel stationery, and thanked the family for the kindness shown him.

An answer arrived, addressed in this manner: "Senor Wilbur Cashon, Ritz Hotel, 100 Rooms, 100 Baths, Paducah Ky., U. S. A."

Electric Power Plant Expansion Planned By City

Escanaba's expanding industrial and commercial community is placing power demands on the city's municipal electric generating station that must be met within the next three years—or there will be a power shortage locally.

After conferences with representatives of Black & Veatch, the City Council in meeting Thursday night approved a power study contract with Black & Veatch, consulting engineers.

As the growth load increases, the city plant must prepare for expansion of its capacity, said City Manager George Harvey.

He recommended the preliminary study contract with Black & Veatch and said that even if the expansion project were started now, it would require three years to complete.

Study Ordered

Escanaba owns the electric generating facility on the north bay shore. It is operated by the Upper Peninsula Power Co. under a 30-year contract, renewable at 10-year intervals. The contract is now in its second 10-year period.

In effect the city buys power wholesale from the Power Co. Excess power beyond the needs of the city are available to the Power Co.

Since the plant was started about 11 years ago the peak load has grown consistently each year and has zoomed with the expansion of larger industries and in particular the change-over of the Chicago & North Western Railway Co. to a new ore loading facility, electrically-powered.

The total net generating capacity is 28,000 KW and the contract provides that when the load approaches 21,000 KW there will be negotiations for plant capacity expansion. In anticipation of this, the city is employing Black & Veatch at a cost of $2,500 to make preliminary studies, the fee to be credited to the total project cost if the expansion is undertaken.

Citizens Named

A number of Escanaba citizens were appointed and reappointed to boards and commissions by Mayor Cecil B. Chase, with the Council session Thursday night in the County Building.

Named were:

Marlin Williams to the Civil Service Board; Lois Thompson and William Morrow, Zoning Board of Appeals; Matt Smith, Jack Winters and George Miller to the Planning Commission; Algot Gustafson, Rene Labre and Roland Taylor, Safety Advisory.

Isadore Stein, Mary Jane Wertz and Florence Dufresne, Library Board; James Zimmerman, Lyle Plozman, Cleve Moore, Recreation; Herb Ryan, Heating Board; and Housing Commission, William DeHaan.

Tribute To Worth

The Council received and accepted with expressions of regret and commendation the resignation of John Gannon from the Housing Commission. Gannon will become interim housing director for the Senior Citizens housing project. The vacancy on the Commission will be filled by the Council at its next meeting.

The transfer of a liquor license for the People's Hotel from Mr. and Mrs. John Harris to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Borst was approved.

The Council in tribute to Jean Worth, who is retiring as editor of the Escanaba Daily Press, adopted a resolution in which he was praised for his "outstanding career as a veteran editorial staff writer."

He was noted as the recipient of many honors and his numerous contributions to civic and fraternal organizations; and he was commended for "tasks excellently and faithfully done."

Plan Improvements

Gustafson Oil Co. of Escanaba was awarded a contract to supply the city with asphalt and asphalt emulsion; and a request to break curb at 218 Stephenson Ave. was referred to the Safety Committee.

May 15 was set as the date for a hearing on improvements including 22 alley paving jobs, 15 streets, six sanitary sewer and four water main projects.

A resolution supporting continued state and local bond tax exemptions was adopted; and resolutions directing attention to the Lions Club's "Radio Day" and the up-coming "Paint-Up, Clean-Up and Fix-Up" week of May 11 were adopted.

Railroaders Upset By Time

DETROIT (AP) — Some 150 railroaders have appealed to the courts because working on daylight time and living on standard time is upsetting their lives.

The Detroit, Toledo & Ironton Railroad's yard workers, welders and maintenance men have asked Wayne County Circuit Judge Charles Kaufman to order the railroad to revert to standard time.

Since Michigan remains on standard time while the rest of the nation observes daylight time, the workers are required to report on their jobs an hour earlier.

Lawrence S. Charfoos, an attorney for the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen, said "while their families are operating on Michigan time, the railroad employees have to function on daylight saving time."

He said the schedule change is especially upsetting to workers who normally drive their children to school on their way to the yards.

James Baysinger, DT&I attorney, said he has not seen the lawsuit filed Thursday, but indicated the US Transportation Department had given the railroad permission to operate on daylight time.

"If we didn't operate this way, we'd be asking our train operators to wear two watches," he said.

Tree Kills Cutter

CADILLAC (AP) — A 19-year-old pulpwood cutter was killed Thursday when a tree fell on him in Wexford County's Greenwood Township. Killed was Greg Birgy of Manton.

Namath Innocent Of Drunk Driving

MIAMI (AP) — Football star Joe Namath was found innocent today of drunken driving but the New York Jets quarterback was fined $50 for speeding in an April 14 incident in which he admittedly cursed a police officer.

Dade County Metro Judge Arthur Winton said Namath submitted to a chemical test shortly after his arrest on the 79th Street Causeway between Miami and Miami Beach and results showed he was sober according to the law.

Planned by his attorney and reporters, Namath stood with head down as Judge Winton levied the $50 fine or four-day jail sentence on the speeding charge. He dropped a charge of driving without a license.

"I got a fair shake," Namath said as he walked across the hall and paid his fine. "I wasn't drunk but I might have been speeding."

Bald Eagles Suffer Another Blow In U.P.

By DAVE ANDREWS

The dwindling population of bald eagles in the United States has suffered another blow in the Upper Peninsula.

Richard Branzell of Escanaba, U.S. game management agent for the Dept. of Interior, reported four more eagles have been found dead in the Upper Peninsula in the past six months.

At least two of them — and possibly all four — died as a result of gunshots, Branzell said, despite federal and state laws which prohibit shooting of eagles.

"One of the eagles was shot in the Wakefield area," Branzell said. "The other three birds were found in Dickinson, Schoolcraft and Luce counties."

"One of those birds definitely was shot," he continued. "The others will be autopsied in Washington to determine cause of death."

In 1968, Branzell said, seven eagles were lost in the Upper Peninsula, an alarming number when considering there are only about 2,000 bald eagles left in the entire contiguous 48 states.

Emblem Since 1782

The bald eagle, also known as the American eagle, has been the national emblem since June 20, 1782. It's likeness on the country's official seal and coins has been a symbol of freedom, but Branzell and other wildlife officials fear that unless shooting of the eagle is discontinued the bird will become extinct in the country.

A 1966 study by the U.S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife of 73 bald eagles found dead showed that in 44 instances where cause of death could be determined, 31 birds died from gunshots.

Besides the four eagles that have been found dead in the Upper Peninsula, Branzell pointed out that a fifth bald eagle was wounded by a hunter near Rock last fall. The bird, one wing mangled, was nursed back to health, but will never fly again and is being kept in a wildlife sanctuary in Lower Michigan.

Of the three dead eagles Branzell now has in his possession — the bird shot near Wakefield already has been sent to Washington — two of them are immature. The third is a "big female," he said.

Looks Like Hawk

Until after its fourth year, the bald eagle looks like a "big brown hawk" and this is probably one reason for the shooting of the birds, Branzell pointed out. Until it matures, the eagle doesn't have the distinguishing white head and tail feathers.

Besides the continued shooting of eagles, however, the failure to hatch new birds has contributed to the decline in the population. The National Audubon Society reported there has been a 50 per cent loss in 20 years in areas where the society has been able to collect reliable data.

In nests near the Great Lakes, only four per cent of the nests were successful in reproduction. Suspected causes are many, including loss of nesting habitat, general disturbance by civilization and the effect of DDT (ingested through fish) on reproductive capacity. While little can be done to improve natural reproduction, Branzell expressed hope that shooting of eagles can be cut.

"I've always had sort of a soft spot for eagles," Branzell said. "I'd hate to see our national emblem disappear."

American Motors Goes To Plastic

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors Corp. is planning to build six entirely new vehicles within the next three years, some of them with hoods and decks of plastic instead of traditional sheet steel.

Roy D. Chapin, AMC board chairman, announced the plans to build the six "entirely new products" and company sources said some would have hoods and decks made of high-strength plastic currently used mainly in grills and smaller parts.

Among the six cars will be the AMV Hornet, an economy compact to be introduced this coming fall; a high-performance sports car called the AMX 2 which reportedly is slated for production next spring, and a minicar to compete with foreign imports such as Volkswagens, likely to appear in the fall of 1970.

Company officials were keeping a tight-lipped silence on the three other cars.

Chapin said the firm plans to stagger introductions of the new cars at intervals of about six months, starting this fall.

The AMC chairman revealed the plans Thursday to newsmen while attending a celebration at Milwaukee, Wis., of the 15th anniversary of the founding of AMC.

He also announced the firm would spend more than $5.5 million at its Kenosha, Wis., body plant in what was described as "the most extensive body construction facility changeover" in history.

DNR Establishes Bureau On Water

LANSING (AP) — Establishment of a water management bureau in the State Department of Natural Resources was announced today by Director Ralph MacMullan.

Formation of the bureau, approved by Gov. William Milliken Civil Service Department, consolidates all of the department's water management responsibilities under one unit.

The move is intended to streamline operations and provide better public service, MacMullan said.

Benington Gets Hospital Release

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State basketball coach John Benington, who suffered a heart attack April 11, was released from the hospital Thursday.

Benington, 47, the father of nine children, was on the critical list temporarily at Lansing's Edward Sparrow Hospital. His condition now is reported as "good" but Benington has been ordered to rest and restrict his activity.

Malpractice Suits Hike Medical Costs

By The Associated Press

Malpractice suits filed by patients against doctors are contributing to the increased cost of medical care in the United States.

Rates on malpractice insurance for doctors have soared across the country and the increased costs are borne, at least in part, by the patient.

Statistics show that one doctor out of every six of the 300,000 in the United States has been, or is being, sued for malpractice. Last year, doctors paid $75 million in malpractice insurance premiums.

Some $18 million was paid in awards to patients in 1968, according to Bernard D. Hirsh, general counsel of the American Medical Association. Legal fees added to the costs.

Rates Up 47 Per Cent

William F. Martin, a New York lawyer, said in a paper recently before the National Medical Symposium in Las Vegas: "Spokesmen both for the medical profession and the insurance industry agree that the higher rates are caused by the increased number of malpractice suits being filed by disgruntled patients and the larger settlements being made both in and out of court."

The Insurance Information Institute in New York says premiums on malpractice insurance are up 47 per cent over a year ago.

The institute, in a recent announcement of rate revisions, stated that from 1959 through 1963, insurance companies paid $140 for every $100 received in premiums from physicians. For surgeons it was $151 for every $100.

Hospitals Included

Recent revisions upped malpractice rates in 27 states, while reducing them in two.

The increases ranged from 10 per cent in four states to 75 per cent in Montana and Ohio and 100 per cent in Vermont. Rates in six states went up 50 to 60 per cent.

Rates were reduced 10 per cent in New Hampshire and 15 per cent in Oregon.

Rates for hospitals maintaining liability insurance likewise are rising.

There are other patient costs, too, engendered by extra-cautious—and perhaps unnecessary—tests, a committee of the AMA trustees reported.

There are no recent statistics to show whether there has been an increase in malpractice suits filed, but many doctors, lawyers and insurance men say there has been.

Some physicians pay $12,000 to $15,000 a year for maximum coverage, an AMA official said. Minimum coverage might cost $400 to $600 for protection against claims of up to $5,000. Many hospitals insist that doctors with staff privileges carry at least $100,000 in insurance, and often more.

Inflation

Richard P. Bergen, director of the AMA's department of legal research, said the trend to higher awards to successful plaintiffs results from the fact that the public is aware that doctors have the highest average income of any professional group so juries decide "for the working stiff."

He said this trend also results in part from inflation (other jury awards also are up); the awareness on the part of the jury that insurance companies are going to have to pay and they resent insurance companies because of their experiences with them; and the knowledge among jurors that lawyers will get a third to half of any award.

The cost of malpractice insurance is especially prohibitive for young physicians starting their practice.

But more serious than the cost to this group and other physicians, Bergen says, is the cancellation of policies and the leaving of the malpractice field by some insurance companies.

Michigan Abstract At State Library

The seventh edition of the Michigan Statistical Abstract provides quick access to basic information about Michigan, reports Charles Harper, Michigan State Library Branch, Escanaba.

It is arranged in 12 chapters covering: population, education and vital statistics; climate and land area; income, employment and public welfare; agriculture, forestry and fisheries; mining, housing and construction; manufacturing; trade; finance and insurance; communication, transportation and public utilities; selected services; and government and elections.

Several tables include information from the 1963 U. S. Census of Manufactures. Appendices define Michigan's standard metropolitan statistical areas and provide selected statistics for comparing the 50 states, he said.

The seventh edition has two significant additions, included in response to requests from users. The first is inclusion of data from the other states in the East North Central Region, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Wisconsin. This includes statistics on population, education, personal income, retail and wholesale trade, bank assets, state government expenditures, agricultural and mineral production, fisheries, the lumber and wood products industries, and the votes by state, for the presidential elections of 1956, 1960 and 1964.

The second addition is expanded information on the white-nonwhite composition of Michigan's population.

There is a table of contents and an index. Each chapter has a short introduction describing the sources of information for the statistics used. The Abstract is valuable in many fields. It gives quick access to a wide variety of information from government and private sources which might otherwise take hours to find.

The Abstract may be purchased from the Bureau of Business and Economic Research, Graduate School of Business Administration, Michigan State University, East Lansing, Mich., 48823, for $4.75. It is available for loan from the Upper Peninsula Branch of the Michigan State Library, 413 Ludington St., Escanaba, 49829.

Majestic Prince Tabbed As Derby Betting Favorite

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Four thoroughbred champions and four pretenders to glory got their final grooming today for the 95th running of the Kentucky Derby.

The field of eight, one of them a potential scratch, is the smallest in 21 years and, most fans believe, the strongest in a far longer time.

Majestic Prince, the unbeaten and untied king of the West Coast, has been tabbed as the probable betting favorite in the 1 1/4-mile Run for the Roses that goes to the post at 5:30 p.m. EDT, Saturday.

Flying the colors of Canadian oil millionaire Frank McMahon, the $250,000 yearling purchase has mowed down 47 opponents in seven races, all of them except his first and last at Santa Anita.

Majestic Prince would be the odds-on choice to cop the $125,000-odd Derby except for three things. Their names are Top Knight, Dike and Arts and Letters.

Top Knight has finished first in three of four races this year, although he was disqualified to third in the Bahamas stakes. His only drawback is a five-week layoff since his Florida Derby victory.

Claiborne Farm's Dike, a late-charging son of French Derby champion Herbager, ran poorly in Florida when he was asked for too much too soon, but prompted new hope in victories in New York's Gotham and Wood Memorial.

Arts and Letters, the Virginia-bred property Paul Mellon's Rokeby Stable, was a bridesmaid in the Flamingo, Fountain of Youth and Florida Derby, but took center stage with a 15-length victory in the Blue Grass Stakes last week at Keeneland.

So evenly matched are the Big Four that track handicapper John Battaglia made Majestic Prince the probable 6-5 betting favorite, then turned around and picked Dike as the program choice.

Challenging the four before an estimated crowd of 100,000 are Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Harris, Rae Jet, Leo Miller's Ocean Roar, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Roberts' Traffic Mark and the Kanowsky syndicate's Fleet Allied.

Rae Jet also was entered in a pair of lesser races Saturday, giving his owners chance to change their minds and save the $1,000 due Baeza for each Derby starter.

If all eight answer the call to the post, the race will gross $155,700, with the winner picking up $113,200. The Derby formula calls for $25,000 for the second finisher, $12,500 for third and $5,000 for fourth.

Top Knight, with rider Manuel Ycaza looking for his first Derby victory after eight misses, drew the inside post position when the eight hopefuls plunked down $500 apiece Thursday to enter.

Arkansas Derby winner Traffic Mark drew the No. 2 post with Arts and Letters, with jockey Braulio Baeza substituting for the injured Bill Shoemaker, in No. 3.

Rae Jet, Fleet Allied and Ocean Roar line up in the fourth to sixth gates with Dike and Panamanian riding phenom Jorge Velasquez in No. 7 and Majestic Prince and Derby sensation Bill Hartack on the outside.

BONNIE LAUER, 18, a senior at Berkley High School can drive a ball 210 yards and carries a three handicap in women's golfing competition, but she can't make the school golf team even though the boys on the team would welcome her. Braves Register Victory On Track

GLADSTONE — Eight first place finishes enabled the Gladstone Braves to score a victory over the Holy Name Crusaders and the Big Bay de Noc Black Bears in a triangular track meet held at the Marble Athletic Field.

The Braves finished with 73 1/2 points in the meet, compared with the 65 scored by the Crusaders and the 9 1/2 registered by the Black Bears.

Holy Name's Joe Lasnoski was the only double winner in the meet as he finished first in both the 120-yard high hurdles and the 180-yard lows.

Several close races highlighted the meet, especially in the 220-yard dash, where Holy Name's Jim Dubord nosed Rick Lorenson of the Braves in a picture finish at the tape. Another close match took place in the two-mile run, where Jeff Schram of the Braves ran the distance in 10:35.4 to nip Paul Guenette of the Crusaders by 10:36 clocking broke the school record at Holy Name.

Both the Crusaders and the Braves are back in action this Saturday afternoon. The Braves travel to Newberry and Holy Name is at home against the West Iron County Wykons at 12:30.

The results:

Bengals Shutout Orioles; Colorful McLain Triumphs

DETROIT (AP) — Maybe Denby McLain should have an Oscar added to his array of trophies and awards.

The colorful Detroit Tiger pitcher not only fired a three-hitter against Baltimore Thursday night, he also put on a few additional crowd pleasers as the Tigers trimmed the Orioles 2-0.

Although Detroit managed only two hits off Jim Palmer and one off reliever Dave Leonhard, Bill Freehan's two-run homer in the fifth inning was all McLain needed to pick up his fourth victory against three losses.

"If he's going to pitch against us he's going to have to look that good every time," said Oriole Manager Earl Weaver.

In the first inning McLain got in a verbal battle with first base umpire Ed Runge. Runge accused him of putting his hand to his mouth.

"All I did was put my hand to the side of my nose like I usually do," McLain said.

Runge was booed. McLain was cheered.

Later Weaver complained about McLain continually reaching into his back pocket.

"I was just keeping my hand warm between pitches," McLain said.

Then in the bottom of the third the crowd of 15,700 roared with laughter as McLain bunted Freehan to second and, after running halfway to first, turned around and ran full speed back to home plate to avoid being tagged by Oriole first baseman Boog Powell.

"Was that strictly for show?" McLain was asked.

"No. I was just trying to give the runner time to get to third," he said with a broad, deceiving grin.

In the fourth inning Powell bounced a grounder that skimmed off McLain's forehead for the first hit of the game. Last year's 31-game winner lay sprawled in front of the mound as Tiger Manager Mayo Smith and trainer Bill Behm rushed out.

"It stunned me, that's all," McLain said. "If it hits my glove

I've got it. They call me hot hands."

McLain, who plays the organ and performed in night clubs during the off season, was never in trouble as he got ahead of almost every batter he faced.

Besides Powell's scratch single, Mark Belanger and Don Buford managed singles in the fifth and sixth respectively. McLain walked just one batter and faced only 31 men.

But Palmer was brilliant also. Willie Horton doubled in the fourth for Detroit's first hit, Freehan homered in the fifth after Tom Matchick walked. Leonhard pitched the eighth and allowed a single to Dick McAuliffe.

"He's looked good every time out," Weaver said of Palmer, who is now 3-1. "He threw lacy in the three wins, although he allowed just two hits tonight."

The game lasted just one hour and 49 minutes, shortest for Detroit this year.

"I've never pitched real long games," McLain grinned and referred to the game of Monopoly when he said, "My wife told me to go straight home, do not pass Go, do not collect $200."

Earl Wilson (1-3) was to pitch for the Tigers tonight as Detroit opens a three-game series in Boston. Sonny Siebert (0-3), who lost his last time out against Detroit, was scheduled to be the Red Sox pitcher.

In other AL games, the Minnesota Twins trimmed Seattle 4-1 for their sixth straight victory. California nipped Oakland 3-2 in 10 innings. Kansas City edged the White Sox 5-4 in 12 innings. Washington got past Boston 7-6 and Cleveland dumped the New York Yankees 6-2.

Wilson, Astros Top Reds With No-Hitter

By The Associated Press

Pitcher Don Wilson of the struggling Houston Astros rubbed shoulders with baseball's elite for the second time in his career today all because of bitterness toward the Cincinnati Reds and a burning desire to get even.

Wilson blazed his right-handed slants past the Reds Thursday night for a brilliant no-hit, 4-0 victory and then said bluntly:

"I don't like them."

"I wanted to pay them back for what they did to us when they beat me 14-0" on April 22 at Houston's Astrodome. "They stuck out their tongues at us. They laughed at us."

It was the second no-hitter at Cincinnati's Crosley Field in 24 hours. Only Wednesday night, the Reds' Jim Maloney had blanked the Astros — on hits and runs — 10-0.

Wilson's performance took the spotlight quickly off of the Los Angeles Dodgers' Don Sutton, who in an afternoon game at San Francisco just missed a no-hitter when Jim Davenport doubled for the lone Giants hit with one out in the eighth. The Dodgers won 5-0. In other NL games, Montreal nipped New York 3-2, St. Louis clobbered Pittsburgh 9-3 and San Diego edged Atlanta 4-3.

Only two Reds reached second. Johnny Bench walked and stole second in the second inning. Wilson walked pinch hitter Jim Stewart and Pete Rose in the eighth.

Doug Rader put Wilson ahead in the fourth with a home run. Dennis Menke's double scored two more runs in the fifth. The Astros got their last run in the eighth on Curt Blefary's triple and Wilson's sacrifice fly. Wilson's record now is 2-3.

Sutton's conquest of the Giants Thursday ended San Francisco's nine-game winning streak and left the Dodgers and Giants tied for first in the NL's Western Division. Sutton, 3-2, has pitched 25 successive scoreless innings.

Sutton almost got into trouble in the opening inning when he issued walks to Don Mason with one out and Willie McCovey with two outs. Dave Marshall's grounder forced Mason at second, and Jack Hatfield fouled out.

Tom Haller drove in two runs in the fourth and Willie Davis and Bill Sudakis slammed homers in the fifth and sixth for the Dodgers.

Montreal's triumph broke the Mets' three-game winning streak in an afternoon affair in Montreal. Jose Laboy's ninth-inning sacrifice fly scored pinch runner Ron Brand for the winning run. Donn Clendenon homered for the Expos. Elroy Face, 1-0, was the victor and Don Cardwell, 0-4, the loser.

The Cardinals' Nelson Briles and Jim Hicks ganged up on the Pirates at Pittsburgh with a couple of season's firsts. Pitcher Briles got his first victory, and Hicks picked up his first hit, a two-run triple that put the Cards ahead 2-0. Briles allowed six hits.

San Diego beat the Braves at Atlanta when Tony Gonzalez crashed a two-run, eighth-inning homer. Orlando Cepeda had given the Braves a three-run bulge in the third with a triple and then scored on a wild throw.

Slow-Pitch Play To Open May 26

It was decided at a meeting of league managers last night that the Escanaba Slo-Pitch Softball League will begin play on Monday, May 26.

Two new teams, Paper Mill and Rust Engineering, were voted into the league, joining last year's six teams. AMVET's, River Post, Metropolitan Bar, Meiers Signs, Mark's and Lombardi's were present at the meeting and will enter teams again this season.

Upon recommendations of Paul Vardigan, City Recreation Director, the league voted to discontinue using the old Dock Diamond. The City Recreation Dept. will build another diamond at the Senior High School, centralizing all Slo-Pitch play to that area.

League President Jack Kreiner said that the league is in need of two umpires. Anyone interested in playing should contact one of the teams in the league.

IRON MOUNTAIN — The Iron Mountain Mountaineers were able to stay in front of the Holy Name Crusaders and the Kingsford Flivvers to capture first place in their own triangular meet yesterday afternoon played at the Iron Mountain Country Club.

The Mountaineers scored 357 points in the match to get top honors, while the Crusaders finished with 367 and the Flivvers 422. Walt Bietila of Iron Mountain was medalist for the day with a 39.

Iron Mountain — Tobin 46; Blumbaugh 42; Bietila 39; Carlson 42; Clement 46; Despins 45; Carlson 52; Perla 45.

Final LL Tryouts Slated Saturday

Last call goes out for all candidates for 1969 Little League and Minor League players in the ten, eleven and twelve year old group for Escanaba's summer baseball program.

The tryout will be held Saturday morning at the Little League diamond adjacent to the Civic Center at 9 under the direction of Claude Bohn and Jim Schultz.

Following the final tryout, the player auction list will be printed for the managers' appraisals and the auction will be held next Thursday. After player selections have been made, teams will have about ten days to practice before the championship season gets underway.

Players who chose not to try out, will have ample opportunity to play ball this summer in the City Recreation League according to Paul Vardigan, City Recreation Director.

IRON MOUNTAIN — The Iron Mountain Mountaineers were able to stay in front of the Holy Name Crusaders and the Kingsford Flivvers to capture first place in their own triangular meet yesterday afternoon played at the Iron Mountain Country Club.

The Mountaineers scored 357 points in the match to get top honors, while the Crusaders finished with 367 and the Flivvers 422. Walt Bietila of Iron Mountain was medalist for the day with a 39.

Iron Mountain — Tobin 46; Blumbaugh 42; Bietila 39; Carlson 42; Clement 46; Despins 45; Carlson 52; Perla 45.

Holy Name — Ross 43; Manning 45; Douglas 47; S. Kleiman 43; G. Kleiman 47; Olinger 48; LeMire 45; DeMars 49.

Kingsford — Schmutzler 43; Franson 45; Miller 50; Cummings 49; Redding 55; Tirehel 63; Smith 55; Goudreau 62.

UPON RECOMMENDATIONS OF Paul Vardigan, City Recreation Director, the league voted to discontinue using the old Dock Diamond. The City Recreation Dept. will build another diamond at the Senior High School, centralizing all Slo-Pitch play to that area.

League President Jack Kreiner said that the league is in need of two umpires. Anyone interested in playing should contact one of the teams in the league.

Montreal Scores Third Straight Victory, 4-0

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Montreal Canadiens didn't waste any time Thursday night in moving closer to their 14th Stanley Cup by whipping the St. Louis Blues 4-0.

The victory gave Montreal a 3-0 lead in the National Hockey League's best-of-7 series.

Dick Duff is one of the most impatient of the Canadiens. He doesn't see patience as a virtue on the ice.

"Especially when you're a couple of games up, it's easy to relax and then twice as hard to get back in stride," Duff said after scoring two goals and adding an assist against the outclassed Blues.

"We knew we'd have to start strong tonight and then when they had that goal by Frank St. Marseille called back in the first period, I think it took some of the steam out of them," he added.

St. Marseille's goal was disallowed because referee John Asheley said he kicked it in past Montreal goalie Rogation Vachon. Vachon went on to forge the first playoff shutout of his career.

But the loss of the goal wasn't what bothered St. Louis Coach Scotty Bowman most. The goal would have helped, Bowman agreed, but not enough considering the way the Blues played.

"I think they (the Canadiens) are having too easy a time. Our passing is real bad. We passed better than that all year," Bowman complained.

"Anytime we carried puck we were a lot better. Everything was a split second off, the passing, the shooting. I don't know why."

Serve Savard of Montreal blasted a low line drive past the Blues' goalie, Jacques Plante, midway through the first period. Duff set him up on that one.

Then after Jacques Lemaire made it 2-0 early in the second period, Duff added a goal in each of the final two periods.

League Party Honors Bowlers

First Lutheran To Dedicate Church Sunday

The Wednesday Matinee League of the Midway Lanes held their bowling banquet at the Delis on Tuesday, April 22nd. Cocktail hour at 6:30 p.m. with a smorgasbord served at 8 p.m. Trophies and patches were awarded to Pabst, first place winners for the year, the team made up of Ida Creten, Marion Gillis, Agnes Hart, Ann Mackie, Mary Burroughs and Theresa Gillis.

WIBC High Series award went to Charlene Savoie with a 602; League High Series went to Charlene Savoie for the 602; League High Game to Theresa Gillis for a 247; and League High Average to Mary La-Crosse with 152. A special award was given to Charlene Savoie for her 602 with a patch and 600 club membership. The Achievement Award went to Edith Reid for raising her average the most of any bowler for the season. Prize money was given out for the second half.

The new officers for the coming year are: President, Carol Johnson; Vice-President, Sally Sayer; Sergeant-at-arms, Ellen Lavelle; Secretary - Treasurer, June Hawkins.

The new First Lutheran Church will be dedicated Sunday in services beginning at 4 p.m. in the church nave.

A procession of the local clergymen will open the service and the Rev. Harry Anderson, assistant to the president of the Wisconsin - Upper Michigan Synod of the Lutheran Church in America, will be the speaker and officiant.

Rev. Reuben L. Carlson, pastor, will serve as liturgist and Mrs. Ellis Mowalson Jr., director of music, and Mrs. Michael Creten, organist, will be in charge of the musical portion of the service.

Coffee and cookies will be served in the church dining rooms from 2:30 to 3:45 p.m. and the public is invited to tour the new church at this time.

Completed in the 80th year of the church's history, the unique structure seats 300 in the nave and 44 in the choir. Total cost of the church and furnishings was $291,301 for 14,770 feet of floor space.

A large dining and social area known as Fellowship Hall, and an educational wing completes the attractive structure.

At the close of the program a dinner will be served for area clergymen.

DDT Defended As Disease Foe

MADISON, Wis. — You can eat coho salmon containing 19 parts per million of DDT, morning, noon, and night as your total diet for at least 19 years without any harmful effect, Dr. Wayland J. Hayes, former chief of toxicology of the U.S. Public Health Service, testified as DDT hearings resumed in Madison.

Dr. Hayes based his conclusion on the results of his research with DDT factory workers with intensive exposure, and with human volunteers to whom DDT was fed at higher levels without ill effect.

Dr. Hayes, now professor of biochemistry at Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn., advised there is no danger to the public in current uses of DDT, either from residues in food or from environmental exposure to the pesticide. He appeared as lead-off witness at the resumption of hearings held by the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources, on a petition to ban certain uses of DDT in the state.

Eradication of malaria in the United States was brought about through the use of DDT and while it no longer exists here as a serious threat to public health, Dr. Hayes testified, it remains a major killer of people in many parts of the world. At one time malaria killed two million people and left millions of others debilitated from the disease each year. He said, "DDT still remains the most important single tool for control of malaria." There undoubtedly would be a resurgence of malaria in many parts of the world should DDT be banned, he added.

Thus, a ban on DDT would prove "disastrous," Dr. Hayes declared. He also testified there would be an adverse effect on the control of malaria, particularly in emerging nations which look to the U.S. for leadership. Dr. Hayes said he feared people in other countries would feel that if DDT were banned in the U.S., it would not be safe for use in their countries, and that many human lives would be needlessly lost.

He told of the first time in history a typhus epidemic was ever controlled, when, a generation ago, thousands of people in Italy were dusted with DDT to control the major disease outbreak. He testified that although the people were "pretty well saturated with DDT," they suffered no ill effects from the use of the chemical.

The toxicologist told of a series of studies made on volunteers to measure the effects of DDT on man. "We chose a dose of DDT that was hundreds of times what people were get-

Ford Recalls Trucks, Cars

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. says it is recalling more than 83,000 trucks and nearly 6,900 cars for inspection of possible defects in door latches and accelerator cables.

The company said Thursday it was notifying owners of about 88,700 1969 Econoline vans and F-100 through F-750 trucks to bring the vehicles to dealerships to find an estimated 6,000 units with possibly defective right door latches or Econoline cargo door latches. The firm said some parts may have been manufactured improperly, failing to secure the door unless a key or the lock button was used.

Ford said it also was recalling 252 F-600 and F-6000 trucks, also 1969 models, "to locate a maximum of 21 units which may have incorrect front-wheel bearings. These incorrect wheel bearings eventually might cause failure of the spindle."

Owners of 6,886 standard-sized, 1969 Ford cars with 302 to 390 cubic inch engines built at the Wayne assembly plant were being asked to return the cars to replace accelerator cables. The firm said a number of the cables were manufactured with improper wire cores and might bind in cold weather.

BLOWN BEYOND REEF
AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP) — Hurricane Colleen was an ill wind that did some one some good.
It swept across the Southwest Pacific in February and ravaged parts of Noumea, New Caledonia; but it was a savior for the little New Zealand freighter Matipo, 398 tons, which had been stranded on a reef 40 miles from Noumea for nine months.
Her owner, Captain Athol Rusden, said that the force of the storm had lifted the Matipo clear of the reef.

Cambridge Feels Ballgame Is Open

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Says Godfrey Cambridge of his acting career: "I'm in the right time with the right body, and, baby, the ballgame is open."

The time is certainly right for Negro actors in today's film market. Never before have black actors been in such demand for every kind of role.

Until recently, Godfrey Cambridge would have been cast strictly in comedy roles, for the simple reason that he weighed 360 pounds. Now the fat-man image is gone, along with 150 excess pounds. That's what he means by "the right body."

And the ballgame is indeed open for him. He soon starts his first starring role in a film for Samuel Goldwyn Jr., "Cotton Comes to Harlem," which Cambridge helped to prepare for two years.

"People ask if it's a social documentary," he mused.

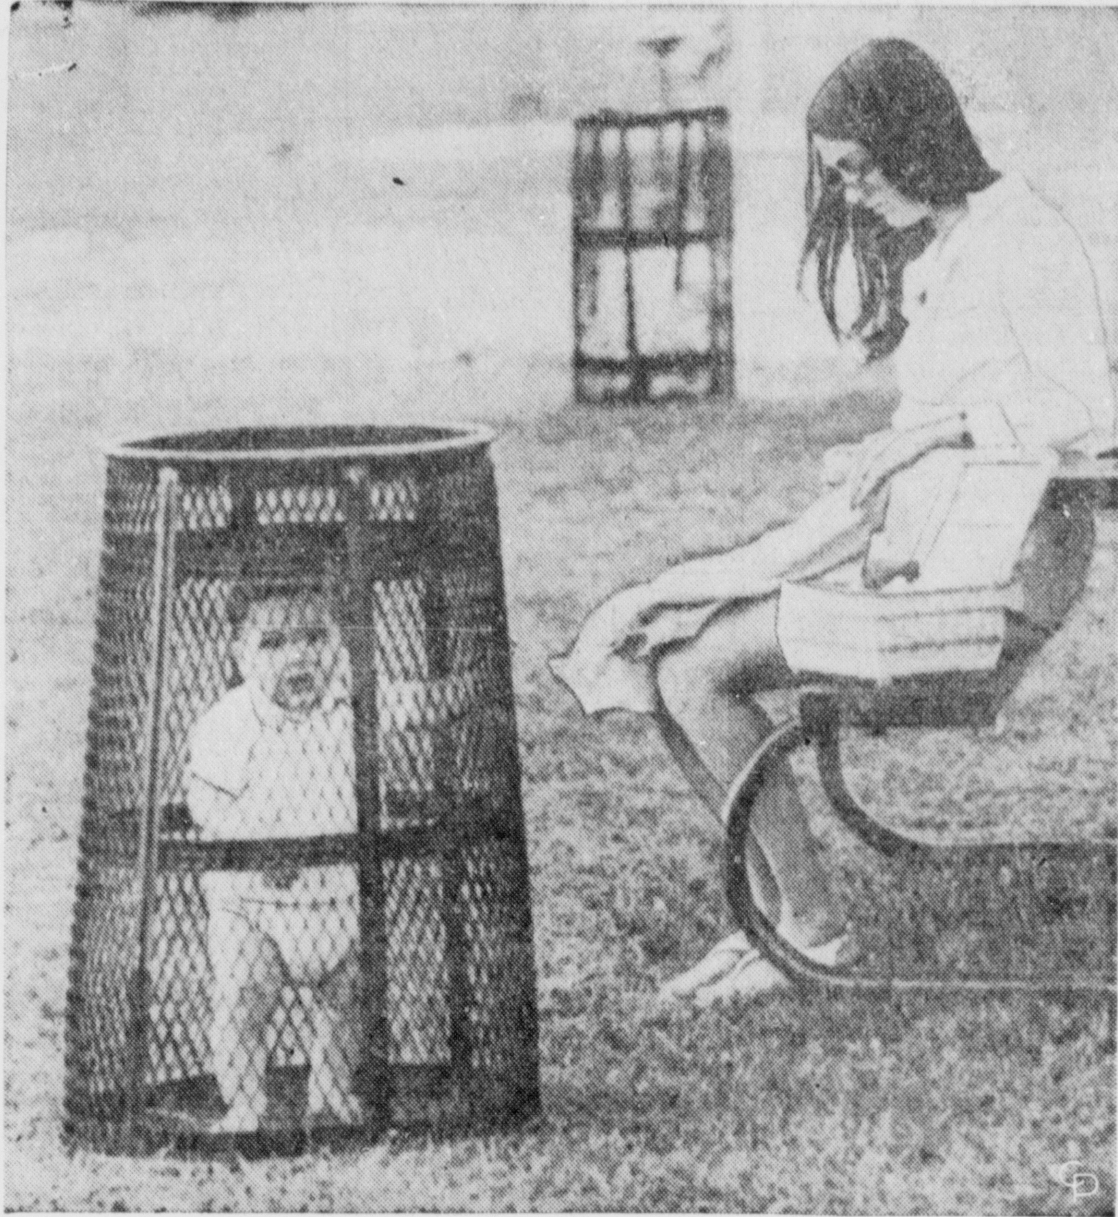

"Hell, no. It's fun, drama and games in Harlem."

Cambridge's detective partner will be Raymond St. Jacques. Ossie Davis, who also helped in preparing the film, will make his directorial debut.

Cambridge has a film at Columbia to follow, and he expects more to be offered, especially since his attendance at the Academy awards.

"It was wild," he remarked. "One person after another stopped me and said, 'Wow, what happened to you, Godfrey?' Some of them didn't even recognize me at first. They're looking at me in a whole new light, and that can translate into movie jobs."

Only two Republican presidents have served two full terms in the White House—Ulysses S. Grant and Dwight D. Eisenhower.

NECESSITY BEING THE MOTHER OF INVENTION, this mother invented a playpen so she could get some sewing done in at St. Petersburg, Fla., park.

Genesis Films, Art Of Students

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The student film maker has long been a frustrated soul. Equipped with a diploma that denotes a practical education in movie skills, he finds studios and unions closed to him.

At last someone is attempting to right that situation. He is Richard B. Childs, 29, himself a one-time student of the graduate film school at UCLA and hence a man who knows what it's like to be turned away by movie and union bosses.

Childs is one of the growing army of university-trained film makers. "Last year the number of students taking college courses in film doubled from 40,000 to 80,000," he points out. He added that those who produce their own films generally get one showing on the campus and that's that.

He cited his own example. After serving in the Army and earning a degree in political science at Stanford, he decided he wanted to look into the world of film. He applied for study at UCLA and to his surprise was accepted. "Then they put an 8mm camera in my hand and said, 'Go shoot a picture,'" he recalled.

Childs' picture was an eight-minute satire on a cocktail party from UCLA film makers. He organized a Filmways subsidiary, aptly called Genesis Films, to distribute the collection. The results?

"Sensational," declared Childs. "So far we have played 'Genesis I' at 15 campuses, and the reviews and the audience response have been remarkable."

"Now we've hired four salesmen to set up dates in each part of the country, and we expect to get bookings in most of the 80 major campuses of 10,000 attendance or over. So far we are planning to play in universities only, but after that we hope to move into the art houses."

Soap For Hippies

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A campaign to raise $5,000 to keep open a church-sponsored coffee house for hippies has been successful.

But one individual didn't send money.

His solicitation envelope was returned with a small bar of soap inside.
